Printed in the year 1653. -

Some General Heads of the Causes why the LORD contends with the Land, agreed upon (after seeking of the LORD) by the Commission of the General parts of the Kingdom, met at Edinburgh, October 1651. So far as for the present they could attain light therein, which they offer and advise to be made use of by all the LORDs People in the Land, leaving place to adde, as the Lord Shall make further discoveries hereafter of the guiltinesse of the Land, and intending more fully and particularly to enlarge this Paper.

1. Article.

He grolle Atheisme and ignorance of God and of his Word and Works, that is in a great part of the Inhabitants of the Land, which is such, that neither Law nor Gospel, nor the most common and necessary points of truth are understood or known by many thoulands.

2. Article. Horrible loofnesse and prophanity of Conversation in all forts, against the Commandments, both of the first and second table, which hath so abounded and encreased, that scarce hath any of the Nations exceeded us therein.

3. Article. The despising and slighting of JESUS CHRIST offered in the Gospel (which we look on as the chief and mother fin of this Nation) and the not valuing and improving the Gospel and precious Ordinances of CHRIST, unto the establishing and building up of our selves in the lively faith of CHRIST and power of godlinelle, but either neglecting and despising these things altogether, or discreting upon and idolizing outward and back strins, without studying to know in our selves, or to promove in others the Kingdom of God, which is righteousnesse and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost: whereby it hath come to passe, that persons not rightly qualified, have been admitted unto, and continued in the Work of the Ministery and Elderships, and that publick repentance and Kirk-censures have been grossely slighted, and the Sacrament of the Lords Supper searfully polluted by the promiscuous admitting of many ignorant and scandalous persons thereto, and many willfully ignorant, and openly and continuedly prophane, have been keeped in the sellowship of this Kirk, contrary to the Word of GOD, and Constitutions of this Kirk, and that many other sad and fearfull consequences have followed unto the prophaning of all the Ordinances of GOD, and rendering them for the most part barren and fruitlesse to us:

4 Art. Not only the exercise of godlines in families much slighted, great men being unwilling and ashamed to call on the name of the L or p in their Family (which guilt is exceedingly heightned by the continuing of many of these in the same after solemn Publick confessing thereof, and engaging to the contrary duty in the year 1648.) and others much neglecting the same; But also the loathing and hatting of the power and life of Religion and godlinesse, and bearing down such as make conscience thereof, or aime at any persection therein, which hath come to such an height, that the Godly are every-where reproached, reviled, oppressed and persecuted throughout the Land by sundry of all ranks: yea, by sundry Magistrates and Ministers; and the ungodly and prophane countenanced, encouraged and imployed.

5. Article. The base love of the world, and Covetousnelle, which hath made not onely the Body of the People, but many Ministers, more to minde their own things, then the things of J s s u s C HR 15 T; and many Masters, Rulers, Magistrates, Officers and Souldiers in Armies, exceedingly to abuse their power unto the exercising of intollerable oppression of all kindes on the poor, to the grinding of their faces, and making their lives bitter to them:

dient: Which francism of Coverousbelle did allo produce the great infolencies and oppressions in our Armies in England and Prelimit, and the fearful perjuries in the Land in the matter of valuation and Excise.

- 6. Article. The abusing and profittuting the Publick Faith of the Kingdom in the way of borrowing of Money and otherwise; unto the dishonouring of G o p, mocking of Men, and reproach of the Nation.
- 7. Article: In purfuing of necessary Duties of renewing the Nationall Covenant, and entring into and renewing the solemn League and Covenant, the way of many mens taking these Covenants was without the knowledge of the necessary things contained therein, and without reality and sincerity of heart, in order to the performance thereof; some being induced thereto by example, some by fear, and not a few by principles of policy, following their own carnall and corrupt ends.
- 8. Arriele. The Following the work of God, and purfuing the ends of the Covenant not in a Spiritual holy way, fetting the Lord D alwayes before our eyes, and acknowledging him in all our paths but in a carnall politick way, abufing God Interest for our own interest and ends, as if it had been the Work of men, and not the Work of God, which made us walk more in the counsels of our own hears then in the Counsel of God, and to trust more in the arm of flesh, then in the Arm of the Lord.
- 9. Article. Backflyding and defection from the Covenant, and from our folemn Vows and Engagements; the guilt whereof is exceedingly heightned by the aggravating circumflances of our renewed Oaths, and of the Loaps Mercies and Engagements, and of our frequent relapfes into the fame first, whereof we once feemed to have repented, and which we condemned in others: Of this Defection there be thefe speciall heads and Steps.
- I. Step. A foul falling from that honesty of heart, and purity of conversation, and from the finglenesse and integrity of heart, A 3 and and from the fervency & zeal for Gop that appeared to be in many at the first entry to the Covenant; and declining into loose walking, and sell interest, and neutrality and indistrency, from which have illued many sad consequences, especially the great scandall and stumbling of many godly in the Land, at us and the Work of God in our hand.

2. Step. The litting up of many Profellors in the Land under the Golpel, and becoming formall and remille, not entertaining tenderness, spirituall life and soberness of minde, which asit hath been amongst the provoking Causes of the Loans wrath, and hath rendered some obnoxious to snares on both hands, so may it (if it be not mourned for and amended) draw on more wrath, and expose to the hazard of errour and disaffection to the Work of GOD.

3. Step. The lecret falling off of some, and open falling away of many unto the opposite party, after their entering in Covenant, especially that defection carried on by James Graham & his party, and that which was afterward carried on by the Authors and Abettors of the unlawfull Engagement 1048.

4. Step. The neglecting, obstructing, and condemning, the purging of the Judicatories and Army, 1649. and afterward, from scandalous and disaff ched men; and of the constituting the same of men of known integrity and affection to the Cause, and of a blameless and Christian C nversation, notwithstanding of the solemn publick Confession of these sins, and Engaging unto these duties a little before that time.

5. Step. The Authorizing of Commissioners to close a Treaty with the King, for the investing him with the Government, upon his subscribing such Demands as were tent to him, after he had given many clear evidences of his disaffection and enmity to the work and people of God, and was continuing in the same: And the admitting of him to the full exercise of his power, and Crowning him, notwithstanding of new discoveries of his adhering to his former principles and way, and of many warnings to the contrary.

6. Step.

- 6. Step. The Rejecting of Discoveries of guittines and causes of the Lords contending with us, and of our duty in reference therto; such as the cause of humiliarion offered by the Committee of the Committee of Estates at Lamb, before the defeat at Danies. The causes of humiliarion condescended on at Stepsian immediately after the deseat at Danies. The Remonstrance of the Gentlemen, Ministers and Porces in the West, and many other testimonies of Presbyteries and Synods together; neglecting the means tending to peace, and to the preventing the effusion of more blood; from pride and bitterness of spirit against those who had _______ invaded us.
- 7. Step. The Publick Refolutions of Kirk and State, for bringing in the Malignant party, first to the Army, and then to the Judica tories, and to the acqual introducing of them with the power of the Ringdom, both Military and Cloud, whereas the state of our case is not only turned up fide down, by subordinating the interest of God to the interest of men; but the work and people of God have been entrusted to the enemies thereof.
- 8. Step. The joyning of many engaged in the Covenant and Cause of God, in Arms with the Forces of the Kingdom, after that by the Publick Resolutions, there was a prevailing party of Malignants brought into the Army, who had the sway of Counsels and Acting the control of the Counsels and Acting the counsels.
- 9. Sig. The predimiting and corrupting of the Gen. Affembly, in regard of the free, lawful and right conflitution thereof, excluding such as were faithful and constant in the Cause, and making it up, for the most part, of those who had been active and instrumental in carrying on a course of Desection, or were consenting thereto; whereby it came to pass that that Meeting did ratifie and approve the Desection it self, and did not only censure sundry for protesting against them, but also laid a soundation for censuring all such Ministers, and for keeping all such out of the Ministry who did not approve of their Constitution and Acts, and did silve Warnings and Declarations resecting exceedingly upon, and contradicting tradicting and condemning former pious and warrantable proceedings, and the inftruments thereof.

to. Article. Deep fecurity, impeniency, oblinacy and incorrigiolencis under all these, and under all the dreadful stroaks of God, and tokensofhis indignation against ut, because of the same so that whilest he continues to smire, we are so far from humbling out selves a and turning to thim, that we wax work and work and sin more and more array dears to extend the results and turning and the same of principles and turning array to about the same of principles and turning arrays to about the same of the same

7. Step. The Publick Refolutions of Kirk and State. for bringing in the Malignant party, first to the Army, and then to the Judica

3. Step. The joyning of many engaged in the Covenant and Caute of God, in Arms with the Forces of the Kingdom, after that by the Publick Refolutions, there was aprevailing party of Maller names brought into the Army, who had the Iway of Countels and Having at our last Meeting intended and promised to enlarge more fully and particularly these Generall Heads of the LORD'S Controversie with the Land, then condescended on. We shall now prosecute and perform the same. So far as we conceive is needfull, and may be helpfull to others, for the better understanding thereof.

T were superfluent to speak any thing to the r. Article, which relates to the grosse ignorance of many thousands in the Land; the trust of the thing being unquestionably acknowledged and bemoaned by all the faithfull and godly Ministers in the Land, and that a great many come to age, are grosly ignorant of the first Principles of Christian Religion; which fin of ignorance, although it be extenuated and flightly looked on by many, yet it is holden forth by the Holy Ghoft in the Scriptures, as the fountain of the eftrangement of fouls from the life of God. Epbes. 4. 18. through the blindness that is in them; heaving the understanding darkned, being alienated from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them; because of the blindness of their bears; of all their disobedience, and living in their lufts, 1. Pet. 1. 14. as obedient children; not fashioning your selves according to the former lufts in your ignorance. And as that which makes them lyable to the wrath of God in the day of Christis appearance, 2. Thess. 1. 8. When the Lord tesis shall be revealed from Heaven with his mighty Angels in slaming five;

Lamiles, and perforts of lome neces in Burn

taking vengeance on them who know not God, and obey not the Gofeel of our Lordelefus Chrift. The guilt of this finis muchaggravated by these Circumstances; t. It is willfull under the light of the Golpel, and the means of knowledge. z. In regard of long continuing therein , many have lived under it for fo many years together, even till their old age. 3. From the groffnelle of it, being fuch in many, as they know almost nothing of the very Letter of the Striptures, dither of their fin and mifery, or of the mercy and remedy that is holden forth through Jelus Christ, 'or of the dutle which they owe to God and their Neighbour; nothing almost either of Law or Gofpel, of the Covenant of Grace, or of the Covenant of Works, of Commandments, Threatnings or Promifes, except in such a generall and confused way as is also gether uselesse unto them, and fruitless in them. 4. In regard of the multitudes of thefe who lye under it, which is very great in an the corners of the Land, especially in the Highlands. 5. In regard of the quality of persons who are not onely servants and Commons, but Masters of Families, and perfons of some note in Burghs and in the Countrey; yea, not a few who have the place of Magistrates and Elders. The Article doth also mention ignorance of the Works of God, by which is meant not only the Works of Greation wherein the Erernall Power and Godhead are clearly feen . Rom. 1:20. For the invisible shings of him from the Greation of the World, are clearly feen, being understood by the things that are made, even his evernall Power and Godbead; but also the ignorance of the Works of Providence, which are great and marvellous, Rev. 15. 3. And they fine abe long of Mofes the fervant of God, and the fong of the Lamb, laying, Great and marvellous are thy works bord God Almighty just and true are thy wayes then King of Saints. And albeit these should be fought out of all thefe that take pleasure therein, Pfal. 1. 1. 2. and the right understanding and observation of them, hath a large promife made thereunto, Pfal. 107.42. Who is wife and will obferve thefe things, even they foal understand the loving kindnes of the Lord. Yet doth the ignorance thereof exceedingly abound amonest many, especially the ignorance and not observing, but forgetting the works of mercy and judgment, which GOD bath wrought amongst our felves; which fin as it proved an in-lesso. man yother provocations , from the 7 verse of that Plalm throughout, To hath it great threatnings pronounced against it, and fore judgments inflicted on it , Pfal. 28. 5. Becanfe they regard not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands, he shal deftroy them, and not build themap. 16a, 5. 11, 12. We tathem that rife up early in the morning, that shey may follow frong drink, and contime till night, till wine inflame them, and the wine and the pipe, the viol; the tabret and the harp are in their feafts, but they regard not the work of the Lord, nor consider the operation of his bands. Pfal. 106. 7413.21, 22. Our faibers underftood vot thy wonders in E. gypt, they remembred not the multitude of thy mercies, but provoked bim at the fea, they form forgot his works, they waited not for his counsell. Thy forgat God their Saviour, who had done great things in Egypt, wondrous works in the land of If am, and terrible things by the redfea. In this Article alfo, Atheiline is joyned with Ignorance, which as it is the root and fountain of all other in, Pfal. 14. 1. The foolbath fald in bis beart , there is no God, they are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doth good. So it is also the root and fountain of all misery, Epb. 2. 12. As that time ye were without Chrift, being frangers from the Commonmealth of Ifrael, and frangers from the Covenant of promife, baving no hope, and being without God in the world. And yet this doth posselle many, there being multitudes of that wicked fort, Pfal. 10.4. Who through the pride of their beart , will not feek God . God is not in all their thoughts. These are far from acknowledging him in all their wayes, and aiming at his glory in all their actions, according to these divinerules, Proverb. 3. 6. In all thy wayes acknowledge him , and be Shall direct thy paths. 1 Cor. 10.31. Woesher therefore ye eat or ye drink, or what foever ye do, in word or deed . do all in the name of the Lord Jefus Christ, giving thanks to the Father through him. But they do live as if there were no God, or as if he had forfaken the earth, and did not fee. Ezek. 9.9. Toen faid be unto me, The imputty of the house of I frael and Indais exceeding great, and the Land is full of blood, and the City full of perverfueffe, for they fay, The Lord hath forfaken the earth, and the Lord feeth not; Or as if the Lord would not do good or evill, like thefe who are threatned, Zeph. 1. 12. I will fearch Jerufalem with candles, and punifb the menthat are ferled on their lees , that fay in their bears . the Lordwill not do good, neither will be do evill.

The Second Article.

He fecond Article concerning loofnesse and prophanity, is no leffe true and evident then the first, it being undervable that a floud of prophanity hath overflowed the whole Land, and that the most part of the Inhabitants thereof have corrupted their way before him, unto the diffionouring of his Name, reproach of our profession, and provoking the eyes of his Glory, Ifa. 1.2,3,4. s. Hear O beavens, and give ear O earth for the Lord bath fpeken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me; the ox bath known his owner, and the affe his mafters crib, but Ifrael doth not know, my people dash not confider : Ab, finfull Nation , a people londen with mignity , a feed of evill doers, children that are corrapters, they have forfaken the Lord, they have provoked the boly one of Ifrael to Anger, they have gone away backward; why should ye be stricken any more, ye will revolt more and more, the whole head is fick, and the whole beart is faint. Ezek. 36. 21, 22, 23. But I had pity for my boly names fake, which the boufe of Ifrael hath prophaned among fithe Heathen whether they went : Therefore fay to the house of Ifrael, thus faith the Lord God, I do not this for your fake, O houfe of Ifrael, but for my boly Numes fake, which ye have prophaned amongft the Heathen whither ye went, and I will fanttifie my great name which was prophaned among the Heathen which ye have prophaned in the midft of them , and the Heathen hall know that I amthe Lord, faith the Lord God, when I foult be fanttified in you, before their eyes, Malach. 2. 11, 12, 13. Judah hath deale treableroufly, and an abomination is committed in Ifrael and Fernfalens, for Judab bath prophaned the holineffe of the Lord which he loved, and bath married the daughter of a ftrange god, the Lord will cut off the man that doth this, the mafter and the febollar out ofthe Tabernacles of Jacob, and bim that offereth an offering unto the Lord of bofts; and this have ye done again, covering the Attar of the Lord with tears, with weeping and with crying out, inso much that he regardeth not the offering any more; or receivethit with good will at your hands. Ifa. 3. 8. For fernfalem is ruined and Judab is fallen , because their tongue and their doings are againft.

gainft the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory. The guilt of this as bounding loofnesse and prophanity is so much the more heightned by thele circumstances that do attend it : First, that it is under the clear light of the Gospel, of the Word preached now for many years throughout the Land, in purity and plenry. Secondly, that it is contrary to many folemn Vows, Engagements, Oaths and Covenants taken on us before God, Angels and men to the contrary. Thirdly, that it is under many bleffings, mercies and deliverances from the Lord. Fourthly that it is under many chaftisements, rods and judgements, especially the sword and peftilence, by which two, many thousands in the Land have been taken away within these few years. Fifthly, that it is common and univerfall, and hath reached over all forts of persons, Noblemen, Gentlemen, Barons, Burgeffes, Ministers and Commons, Sixthly, from the greatnesse of it, Thamelefnes of it, avowedness and grollness of it, which is such that many declare their fin as Sodome, and commit all forts of wickednefle with greedineffe. Seventhly, from the kinds of it, some of the chief and most common of which, especially these who are not named in fome other Article of the former Paper; we fhal here touch: 1 Impatiencie, murmuring and freting against God and his works, whichhath made many to weary of the charges and expence they have been put to, for the Gofpel, and to wilk there had been no fuch thing as the entering into the Nationall Covenant, and the rene wing and entering into the folemn League and Covenant, not to an few to curse and blaspheme the Covenants, and to look on them as the rife and criginal of all the eyils where with the Land hath been afflicted; and it is an great provocation before God, as it appears from thefe and the like Scriptures, Numb 14,1,2,3,4,10,1142. And all the Comgregations lifted up their voice and weeped and erged, and the people weeped that night, and all the children of Ifrael mormared against Moses, and against Auron , and the whole Congregation fainte them, would to God we had died in the land of Egypt, or would to God we had died in the wilderneffe; and wherefore buth the Lord brought us to this land to fall by the fword, that our wives , and our children Should be a prey, were it not better for us to return to Egype? And they faid one to another, let us make a Captain, let us, return to Egypt; then Mofes and Aaron felt ontheirfaces before the Affemblies of all the Congregation of the children of If-

(14) ratt, but all the Congregation bade stone them with stones, and the glory of the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before all the Children of Ifrael: And the Lord faid unto Moses. How long will this People provoke me? and how long will it be ere this People beleeve me, for all the figns I have showed among ft them? I will smite them with pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a Nation, mightier and greater then they. Numbers 21. 5, 6. And they journied from Mount Hor, bythe way of the Red Sea, to compasse the Land of Edom; and the foul of the People was much discouraged because of the way; and the People spake against GOD, and against Moses. Wherfore have ye brought us up out of the Land to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; for our foul loatheth this light bread : and the Lord fent fiery ferpents among the people, and much people of Ifrael died. 1 Cor. 11. 10. Neather be ye murmurers, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. 2. Using not only of charmes. though it be condemned in the Scriptures, Deut. 18. 11. A Charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a Wizard, or a Necromancer, (ball not be found among ft you; for all that do thefe things are an abomination to the Lord: yet is very frequent among the Commons: But also Sorcery and Witchcraft, which is an abcmination Exed, 22. 18. Thou fhalt not fuffer a Witch to live. Deut. 18. 10. There Thall not be found amongst you any that worth Divination, or any Inchanter, or any Witch; especially amongst these who have been baptized in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and yet doth (by the great discoveries thereof which hath been of late) appear to be very frequent in the Land. 3. Ordinary swearing by them that are no Gods, Ier. 5. 7. How foall I pardonthes for this? thy Children bave forfaken Me, and sworn by them who are no Gods, when I have fed them to the full Zeph. 1.4, 5. I will alfo stretch out my hand against Judah, and all the inhabitants of ferufalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarims, with the Priefts: and them that worfbip the boft of beaven upon the boufe tops, and them that wor fhip, and that (wear by the Name of the LORD, and that (wear by Malcham: fuch as Faith, Truth, Soul, Conscience, and by the holy and bieffed Name of GOD Himfelf, and by His Blood and Wounds, and fearful Executions and Curlings, which though they

be condemned, forbidden and threatned in the Scriptures, Exod. 20. 7. Then Shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain. Levit. 19. 12. Thou fhalt not fivear bymy Name fally , weither fhale thou prophane the Name of thy God: I am the Lord, Matth. 5-33, 34, 35, 36, 37. Again, ye have beard it faid by them of old. time, Thou Shalt not forswear thy felf, but Shalt perform to the Lord thy God thy Oathes. But I fay unto you, Swear not at all, neither by Hoaven, for it is Gods Throne : neither bythe Earth, for. it is His Footfool: wenther by Jerufalem, for it is the City of the great King: neither shalt thon swear by thy Head, for thou cannot make one hair white or black, But let your communication be, Tea, yea; Nay, nay : for what foever is more then thefe, cometh of evil. Jer. 24. 10. For the Land is full of Adulteries; because of Swearing the Land mourneth, and the pleasant places in the wildernesse are dried up, because their course is evil, and their force is not right. Zech. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Then I looked, and life up mire eyes, and behold, a flying Rall: the length thereof istwenty. cubits; and the breadth thereof ten cubits. Then faid be unto me, This is the curfe that goeth over the face of the whole & arth : forevery one that flealeth, Shall be cut off as on this fide, according to it : and every one that sweareth, Shall be cut off on that fide, according to it. 1. will bring it forth, faith the Lord of bofts, and it Shall enter into the bouse of the Thief, and into the bouse of him that sweareth fally by my Name: and it shall remain in the midft of his bonfe. and fball confume the timber and stones thereof. Yet thele are for frequent and habitual amongst us, that in many parts of the Land it is a rarething to find a man or a woman, that in their ordinary speech is not addicted to some one of these. 4. Ordinary and gross prophanation of the Lords Day; not only by flighting of, and absenting from the Publick Wo. Saip with the Congregation, which is a fault whereof many are guilty; and not attending to the Word, or joyning in Prayer and finging of Pfalms, when they are present, but also by travelling, trysting, working speaking our own words and otherwise: The danger and hainousness of this fin appears, from Exad. 20. 8. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. Nehem. 13. 15, 16, 17, 18. Inthofe dayes, Sam I. in Judah, fome treading Wine-presses on the Sabbath, and bringing in Sheaves, and leading of fes, and also Wine. Grapes, and Figs. and all manner of burdens which they brought to Jerusalem on the Sabbath Day: and I suffifed against them in the day wherein they fold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre ulfo cherein, which bought fift and all manner of ware, which they fold to the children of Juda and ferusalem on the Sabbath : then I contended with the Nobles of Juda, and faid unto them, What evill thing is this which ge do, and prophase the Sabbath day, did not your fathers thus , and did not our God bring all this evill on us , and on this city ? get to bring more wrath on Ifrael, by prophaning the Sabbath, Ilai 58. 13, 14. If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing thy own pleasure on my boly day, and call the Sabbarb a delight, and the boly of the Lord, honourable, and fall bonour him, not doing thine own wayes, nor finding thine own pleasures, nor speaking thine own words, then Shalt thou delight thy felf in the Lord, and thou foalt ride on the high places of the earth, and I will feed thee with the beritage of Jacob thy father, for the mouth of the Lord bath spoken it. 5. Not giving obedience to anthority to their just and lawfull commands for conscience lake, Rom. 13.5. Wherefore ye must needs be subject not only for wrath, but for conscience fake. And on the other hand, an implicite and willing following of their unlawfull commands, obeying men rather then God, Hof. 5. 11. Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgment, because be willingly walked after the commandement, Act. 4. 19: Whether it be right in the fight of God to bearken to you rather then to God, judgere. The groffe neglect of many parents in the instructing and breeding of their Children in knowledge, vertue and piety, Eph. 6.4 Te fathers, provoke not your children towrath , but bring them up in the narture and admonition of the Lord. And the untowardnesse and ingratitude of many Children to their Parents, Eph. 6. 1. 2, 3. Children , obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandement with promise) that it may be well with thee, and that thou may live tong on the earth. 6. Self murder, unnaturall murder of Children, enimity, malice, strife, contention, especially at Law suits, revenge, and blood, which as they are ancient fins of this Nation, and did much appear in the banding of Clansone against another, and have been little mourned for, or repented of to this day, fo do they ftill continue whilst we professe the unity of the Faith in Christ, and are joyned in Covenants of love and peace one with another other , Jam. 3. 14. 15, 16. But if ye bave bitter envying and firife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against she truth. This wifdome descendeth not from above, but is earthly, senfuel, devilifo: For where envying and frife is, there is confusion and every evil work. 1 Cor. 5. 8. Therefore let us keep the feast not with old Leaven , neither with the leaven of malice and wickednesse, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth. Tit. 3. 3. For we our selves were sometime disobedient, foolish, deceived, serving diverse lusts and pleafores, living in malice and envy, hatefull, and hating one another. Levit, 19. 18. Thou Shalt not avenge ner bear any grudge against the children of thy people; but thou Chalt love thy neighbour as thy felf, I am the LORD. Prov. 1. 16. For their feet run to evill, and they make hafte to fled bloud. Gal. 5. 15. For if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not con-Sumed one of another. 7. Before we close this Article of prophanity, we cannot but in a speciall way take notice of the carriage of many beggars in the Land, amongst whom for a long time past, abominations of all forts bath abounded; which fin lyes fo much heavier on the Land, because though it hath been generally known and acknowledged by all, yet hath no effectuall coutse been taken to this day for the helping thereof.

3. Article.

The third Article which relates to JESUS CHR IST and the Gospel, is in a great measure spoken to in the Causes of Humiliation, concerning the contempt of the Gospel, condescended on by the Commission of the Generall Assembly at Perth, Dec. 21. 1650. yet some particulars there be in the Article, which we shallnow speak unto: 1. The resting on our ward and bare forms, without studying to known in our selves, or to promove in others, the Kingdom of GOD, which is righteousnessee, and joy in the

the Holy Ghoit. The Work of Reformation in the outward part of it, or externall means, that do relate to Worship and Ordinances of GOD and the purity thereof, is certainly a thing excellent and delirable, which all the lovers of pure Religion and undefiled, ought to endeavour to attain to and preferve, Ezra 7. 27. Bleffed be the Lord God of our fathers, who bath put such a thing as this in the Kingsheart; to beautifie the boufe of the Lord at Ferufalem. Exod. 19. 42. According to all that the Lord commanded Mofes, so the Children of Ifrael made all the work, 43. v. And Moses did look on all the work, and behold they had done it, as the Lord commanded, even fo had they done, and Mofes bleffed them. Exek. 42. 11. And the way before them was like the appearing of the Chambers that were toward the North, as long as they, and as broad as they, and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doores. Heb. 3. 2. Who was faithful to him that appointed bim, as also Moses was faithful in all his bouse. Heb. 8. 5. Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to make the tabernacle; for, see (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern (bewed thee in the mount. But when thefe things are refted upon and idolized, they do through our corruption become fnares to us, to keep us from feeking in to more excellent and better things, to wit, communion and fellowship with GOD, and the power and life of godlines, which are the kernell, whereof thefe things are but the shell and the scrooff, and being rested upon, do provoke the Lord either to make them barren and fruitleffe to us, or elfe to loath us in the following of them, or to remove them wholly away from us. Ifai 1. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. Hear the word of the Lord ye rulers of Sodom, give ear to the Law of our God ye people of Gomorrah; To what purpose is the multitude of your saerifices to me, faith the Lord? I am full of the burns-offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beafts: I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats. When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hands, to tread my Courts? Bring no more vaps oblation, incense is an abomination tome, the new moons and the Sabbaths, and the calling of the affembly, I cannot away with, it is an iniquity, even the folemn meeting : your new moons and appointed fealts my foul hateth, they are a trouble to me, I am weary to bear them: And when ye Spreadforth your bands.

hands, I will bide mine opes from you; yea when je make wany prayers, I will not bear ! your hands are full of blood. Ifai. 66. 1, 2, 3, 4. Thus faith the Lord, Theheavens is my throne, and the earth is my footfool, where is the boufage well build me, and where is the place of my reft? for all thefe things bath mine hand made, and all thefe things have been faith the Lord But to this man will I look, even to him that is of a poor and contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word. He that killeth an ox is as if be flew a man : be that facrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dogsneck : be that offereth an oblation, as he that offereth frines blood; he that burneth incense, as he that bleffeth anidol. Tea, they have chosen their own wayes, and their foul delighteth in their abominations; I alfo will choose their delusions, and bring their fears on them, becanfe when I called , none did answer; and when I spake, they did not hear, but did evill before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not. Jer. 7. 4, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. Truft ye not in lying words, faying, The temple of the Lord, the temple of the Lord, are these. Behold, ye trust in lying words that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, commit adultery, and swear falfely, and burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not, and come and frand before me in this bonfe, which is called by my name, and (ay, we are delivered to do all thefe abominations? Is this bouse which is called by my Name become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have feen is , faith the Lord: but go ye to my place which was in Shilob , where I fer my Name at the first, and fee what I did to it, for the wickednesse of my people I frael. And now became ye have done all thefe works , faith the Lord , and I spake to you, rifing up early, and speaking, but yeheard nor; and I called you, but ye answered not : Therefore will I do unto this boufe which is called by my Name, wherein ye truft, and to the place which I gave to your fathers, as I have done to Shilob. Ezek. 7:20,21,22. As for the beauty of his ornament , he fet it in Majefty : but they made the Images of their abominations, and of their deseftable things therein: therefore have I fet it far from them. And I will give it to the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a Spoil, and they Shall pollute it; my face also will I turn from them, and they shall polline my secret place, for the robbers frat enter into it and defile it. Zeph. 3. 13. The remnant of Ifrael [hal not do iniquity, nor speak lies, neither shal a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth, for they shal feed and ly down, and none shalt make them afraid. And this hath been undoubtedly in a great measure the sault of many in this Land, the height of whose zeal and endeavours hath been for the most part to attain the purity of Ordinances, not labouring for the power thereof, whence hath issued a great deal of boasting and considence in a Covenant and pure Ordinances, and a well reformed Kirk, when in the mean while most men be strangers to that grace that bringeth salvation, and teacheth to deny ungodlinesse and worldly lusts, and to live soberly, righteously and godly in this present world. Titus 2. 11, 12 For the grace of God that bringeth salvation, bath appeared to all men, reaching us, that denying angodlinesse and worldly lusts, we should live godly, righteously and soberly in this present world. The second is the sad Consequents that hath followed on this, whereof there be four speciall in the Article.

The First whereof is, The admitting of persons not rightly qualified to the work of the Ministry, and Elderships in Congregations, and the continuing of fuch in these places. For understanding of which, ye would consider, that the Word of God, and Acts and Constitutions of our Kirk, do require of Ministers, not only that they be men of knowledge, understanding and conscience, for ruling in the house of God, and of a blameless conversation; but that they be fanctified and holy, and spiritual, and have their sences exercifed in spiritual things: A Bishop (faith Paul, Tit. 1.8.) must be a lover of good men , fober , just , boly , temperate. And the same Apostle 1 Tim. 3. 6. tels us, be must not be a nevice, or one newly come in to the faith. He would not only have him in the faith, that he may speak because he beleeves, and be able to comfort others with the confolations wherewith he hath been himfelf comforted of God, 2 Cor. 1. 3, 4 Bleffed be God, even the Father of our Lord Fefus Chrift, even the Father of mercies, and God of all comfort, who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort others who are in trouble, with the comfort wherewith we our felves have been comforted of God. In the Afts of the Affembly at Edinburgh 1596, March 26. it is provided, That the trial of the persons to be admitted to the Ministry hereafter, consist not only in their learning and ablity to preach, but also in conscience and feeling, and spiritual wildom; and in the same Act it is provided, that fuch as shall not be found given to fanctification and prayer, that fludy not to be powerful and spiritual, but be cold, and wanting spiritual Zeal, that all such persons be censured, and continuing therein, be deprived : Which Act was revived in the Gen. Affembly 16, 8, likewife in the Gen. Affembly 1646. The putting in, and holding in of infufficient and fuspected men, who favour the things of this life; and the keeping the door straiter on these whom God hath sealed, then on these who have less evidence of Grace and holiness, is reckoned amongst the enormities and corruptions of the Ministry in their callings; and amongst the remedies of these corruptions, it is provided, That all Presbyteries make great confcience to have all vacant places, within their feveral bounds fetled with godly and able men, wherever they be found. These Scriptures and Acts, with fundry others of the like kind, require, not only that a Minister be negatively holy, that is, one who is not scandalous in his life and conversation, but that he be positively holy, acquainted with God and spiritual things, and a partaker of the brace of the Gofpel in himfelf, which he preacheth to others; and religious reason doth require the same: How shall he be a Chrifrian Minister, who is not a Christian? how shall he preach to others, who doth not himfelf beleeve? how shall he know to speak a word in feafon, to whom the Lord hath not given the tongue of the Learned? to comfort others with the consolations of God, who was never comforted therewith himself? How shall he pray for others, who cannot pray for himself? How thall he reveale Christ, who never knew him? How shall be naturally care for fouls, who hath not the love of Christ dwelling in him? The Scriptures do also require of ruling Elders, not only that they be men of understanding, knowledg, and wildom, and such as are able to discern and rule, but also that they be blameless and holy, as is evident in the Epiffles of Paul to Timothy and Tuns. And the Discipline of our Kirk requires, That besides abilities to govern . confult, admonish, and order all things appertaining to the state of the Congregation, that they be men of a good life and holy conversation, without blame, and all suspition, careful for the Flock, wife; and above all things fearing God: notwithstanding hereof, many litteral and formal men, who are strangers to the mysterie of godlines, & work of the Spirit of life, which is in Jefus Chrift, are admitted unto, and continued in the Ministry and Elderships, (nay, in some places, especially in Elderships, men that are ignorant and fcandilous feandalous) by which things it comes to pass that there is a lifeless, dead, and careless Ministry, and unprofitable Eldersnips in many Congregations, and that the growth of the Gospel and godliness.

The fecond Confequent which is mentioned, is, The gross flighting and mocking of Kirk Censures, and of Publick Repensance; whereof it would be considered, That the Word of God, Acts and Constitutions of this Kirk, do require of these who are to make Publick Profession of their Repentance for scandalous offences, not only a naked and bare profession of Repentance, but such a profesfion of Repentance, as doch hold forth a real conviction and forrow for fin; and not only the ceasing from the fin for the time, but the bringing forth of the contrary good fruits of fobriery, righteoufnels and holinels. Wamb. 5. 6, 7, 8. Speak unto the Children of Ifrael , when a man or a woman fhall commit any fin that men commit, to do a prespass against the Lord, and that person be guilty; then they fhall confess their fin which they have done; and he first recompence his erespass with the principal thereof, and add unto it the fifth part thereof, and give it ante bim against whom behath trespassed. But if the man have no binsman to recompence the trefpass unto, let the trespass be recompensed mono the Eard. even unto the Prieft : befide the Ram of atonement, whereby an atonement fhal be made for him. It is appointed that offenders who have wronged others, and were to be admitted to the trespals offering, foould not only make confession of their fins, but also make fari-fa-Ction to the parry to whom the wrong was done, which fatisfaction is a fruit of righteoufnelle; to which agrees that of Fefus Chrift, Mat. 5. 23. If thou bring thy gift to the Altar, and there romembreft that thy brother bath ought against thee, verf. 24 leave there thy gift before the Altar, and gothy way, and firft bereconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. In that publick penitentiall confession that is mentioned, Erra. 10 10, 11. Te have transpressed and taken strange wives, and increased the trespals of Ifrael : now therefore make confession to the LORD GOD of your fathers, and do his pleasure, and separate your selves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives. There it not only a confession of the fin , but a doing of the LORDS pleasure, and a separating of themselves from the people of the land, and from the flrange wives. Pfal. 51. which was penned to be a teftimony mony of Davids Publick Repentance, for the scandalous fins of musder and adultery committed by him; and was therefore committed to the chief Musician, to be Published in the Sanctuary and Temple, doth contain many notable Evidences of Repentance and Reformation: And we fee the Apostle Paul I Cor. 1. 7. doth not give charge to the Corinthians for the receiving the Incestuous person, until he is in some appearance of hazard to be swallowed up with too much forrow. 7. verfe Te ought to forgive him and comfort him, least perhaps such an one be swallowed upwith over mech forrow; which doth argue that the Apostle thought a great meafure of reall conviction and forrow requifite in fuch an one, before he ought to be received: According to these Scriptures, the first book of Discipline, in the 7, head thereof requires, that before scandalous persons be admitted to the Publick confession of their Repentance, that there appear in them fignes of unfeignedrepentance; and the form and order of Publick repentance appointed by the Generall Assembly of the Ministers and Elders, in the which they ought sharply to be examined what fear and terrour they have of Gods judgements, and what hatred for fin, and dolor for the fame, and what sense and feeling they have of Gods mercies; in the which if they be ignorant, they ought diligently to be instructed : For it is but a mocking to prefent fuch to Publick Repentance as neither know what fin is, what Repentance is, what Grace is, nor by whom Gods mercy and favour is purchased, thereafter the offender shall be instructed in the Assembly, so that he have some taste of Gods Judgements, but chiefly of Gods Mercies through Jesus Christ, he may be presented before the Publick Kirk; And the Act of the Generall Assembly at Edinburgh 1596. March. 26. That none falling in Publick scandall be received in the fellowship of the Kirk, except his Minister have some appearance and warrand in his Conscience, that he hath both a feeling of fin, and an apprehension of mercy; and for this effect, that the Minister travail with him in Doctrine, and private instruction, to bring him thereto; especially in the Doctrine of Publick Repentance, which being neglected, the Publick place of Repentance is turned to a mocking. And the Acts of the Generall Assembly at Edinburgh 1549. provids that because many heretofore have made a shew and profession of Repentance, who were not convinced of their guiltinesse, nor humbled for the same, but did therafter return like the dog to the vomite, and with the fow to the puddle, unto the mocking of God, the exceeding great reproach and detriment of his Caufe; Therefore for the better discerning the truth & fincerity of the Repentance of these who delire to be admitted to the Covenant and Communion, it is appointed and ordained that none of the perfons who are debarred from the Covenant and Communion, shall be received and admitted thereunto, but fuch as after tryal shall be found for some competent time either before or after the offer of their Repentance. according to the discretion of the respective Judicatories, to have in their ordinary conversation given reall testimony of their dislike of the late unlawfull Engagement, and of all the courses and ways of Malignants, and of their forrow for their accession to the same, and to live godly, righteoutly, & loberly &c. And reason also proves the fame point, for whether we take Publick Repentance in reference to the removing of scandal and offence given to the Kirk, or in reference to the absolution of the party from the guilt of the same incimated to him by the Minister as the servant of Christ, and in the Name of Christ, on his Repentance; it must alwayes be underfrood of fuch a profession of Repentance, as doth eridence the reality and humility thereof in outward fruits; for a real fcandal cannot be removed by a bare and verbal profession without fruits; nejther can a minister with any persuasion of conscience make any intimation of mercy and pardon to him of the reality and fincerity of whole profession he hath no testimony in his carriage and conversation. Yet notwithstanding of these things many scandalous persons of all forts, especially these who were prophane Malignants. difaffected to the Work of GOD and his people this last year, have been admitted to Publick Repentance, on bare convictions of Repentance and forrow, without any reall evidence and fruit thereof in their carriage and conversation; nay, in many of them there was prefumptions in the contrary; which as it hath proven a fnare to their fouls, so hath it exceedingly provoked God, and numbled the godly, and rendered Kirk Censures and Publick Repentance base and contemptible.

The third consequence is, That the Sacrament of the LORDS Supper hath been fearfully polluted and prophaned, by the promiscuous admitting of many scandalous and ignorant persons thereto: The truth whereof in the matter of fact, as it hath been the constant burden and complaint of all the godly Ministers and people in Scotland thele many years pall; fo it hath been oft confessed in the Causes of solem n. Falls, and publick Humiliation and perticularly in that publick Acknowledgement of Sin that was made by the Kirk of Scotland, in the year 1648, that it may be the better understood and taken up; ye would consider first what persons by the Word of GOD, and doctrine of the Kirk of Scotland, are to be debarred from, or admitted to the Sacrament of the Lords Supper; bow therule of the Word and constitutions of the Kirk are keeped in this particular. For the first, it is clear from the Word of God, and the Doctrine of the Kirk of Scotland, that all scandalous and ignorant persons ought to be debarred from the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, and that none ought to be received and admitted thereunto, but fuch who do not only know and make profession of the Gospel, but walke sutable thereunto. The Apostle Paul in the 1 Cor. 11.28. appoints that a man must first examine himself, and so eat. And he also saith, That he who comes to that Sacrament, must be one who discernes the Lords Body; otherwife, that he cats and drinks damnation to himself; and he further adds, That this must be done in remembrance of JESUS CHRIST, to shew forth his death till he come again; and therefore fuch as by reason of their ignorance cannot examine themselves, nor discern the Lords Body, nor knowes not what it is to flew forth the Lords death, ought not to come. This fameduty of examination, difcerning the Lords Body, which the A postle calls for, doth also debar scandalous persons, and admit of none but fuch who walk orderly according to the Gospel, because the examination here required, must be according to the nature of the Ordinance of the Lords Supper, to wit, whether they be worthy or not, that is, whether they have repentance or not; For he that comes without it, is unclean, and so pollutes the Ordinance; as also whether he hath faith or not, without which, there can be no discerning of the Lords Body, nor shewing forth his death; and whether they have love or no, without which, there can be no Communion with CHRIST and his Members in that Ordinance. The Confession of Faith of the Kirk of Scotland, Intituled, To whom Sacraments appertain, speaks thus: But the Supper of the,, Lord (we confesse) to appertain to such only as be of the houshold of Faith, and can try and examine themselves, as well in their ... faith as in their duty to their neighbour; but if fuch persons ought, not to come, and if the Sacraments do not appertain to them, there can be no question, but if they prefume to come, they ought to be debarred, it being a truft committed to the Officers of the Kirk, both in the Old and New Testament to keep the charge of the holy things, and to take heed that his Ordinances be not polluted and prophaned, and to separate the precious from the vile. Levit. 10. 10. That ye may put a difference betwint the holy and unholy, beewixt the clean and unclean. 2 Chron. 2 7. 19. And befet the porters at the gates of the house of the Lord, that none who was unclean, in any thing, Should enter in, Ezek. 22. 16. They have put no difference betwixt the boly and prophane, neither have they Thewed difference betwixe the clean and the unclean. Ezck. 44. 7. In that ye have brought into my fanctuary frangers uncircumcifed in heart, and uncircumcifed in flesh, to be in my fanetuary to pollute it, even my boufe, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blond, and they have broken my Covenant, because of all your abo. minations, and ye have not keeped the charge of my boly things, but ye have fet keepers of my charge in my sandwary for your selves. Mat. 7. 6. Give not that which is boly unto does, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, left they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rent you. 1 Cor. 5. 13. But them that are without God judgeth; therefore put away from amongst your selves that wicked person. Tit. 3. 10. Amanthat is an heretick, after the first and second admonition, rejett. Rev. 2. 20. Neverthelesse I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Fezabel, which calleth berfelf a prophetefs, to seach & feduce my fervants to commit fornication, and to eat things facrificed to idols. Jet. + 5. 19. If then take forth the precious from the vile, thou fhalt be as my month : les them return unto thee, but return not thou unto them. The Direction for the Publick Worship of God throughout the three Kingdomes, in the Head concerning the Celebration of the Lords Supper, afferts, that the ignorant & scandalous are not to receive the Sacrament. And the Large Catechifm afferts, That fuch as are found to be ignorant & scandalous, notwithstanding their profession of faith and defire to come to the Lords Supper, may & ought to be keeped from that Sacrament, by the power which Christ hath left in his Kirk, untill they receive inftruction, and manifest their reformarion: And the Confession of Faith condescended on by the Assembly of Divines, and approven by the Kirk of Scotland, in the Chap-terof the Lords Supper, faith, That all feandalous and ignorant perfons, as they are unfit to enjoy Communion with CHRIST, fo are they unworthy of the Lords Table, and so cannot without great fin against CHRIST (whilst they remain such) partake of the holy Mysteries, or be admitted thereto. And for proof thereof, citeth thefe Scriptures, 1 Cor. 11. 27, 28, 29. Wherefore who foever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, foall be guilty of the body and blond of the Lord: But let aman examin himfelf, and fo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that oup: For be that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himfelf, not difcerning the Lords body. 2 Cos. 5. 14, 15, 16. For the love of Christ constraineth us, because we thus judge, That if one died for all, then were all dead; and that be died for all, that they which live, should not benceforth live to themselves, but to him that died for them, and roje again. Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh; yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet we benceforth know him no more. 1 Cor. 5. 6, 7. Know ye not , that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is facrificed for us. v. 13. But them that are without, God judgeth: Therefore put away from among your selves that wicked person. 2 Theff. 3. 6, 14, 15. Now we command you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Fesus Christ, That ye withdraw your selves from every. brother that walketh disarderly, and not after the tradition which bereceived of us. And if any man obey not our word by this Epifile, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be asbamed. Ter count bim not as an enemy, but admonish bim as a brother, Mat. 7.6. Give not that which is holy unto dogs, neither caft ye your pearls before fwine, left they trample them under their foct, andturn again and rent you;

As to the other, how the Rule of the Word, and Constitutions of this Kirk are keept in this particular it needs not much be spoken, the transgression being so palpable & common that they who runs may read, these particular saults may be taken notice of in order to this point:

1. To say nothing, that in some places, sew or none at all are excluded for ignorance, but that persons being once come to such an age, are admitted, and being once admitted, are never again excluded: There is in many Congregations little or no care to examine, or take any notice of the knowledge of all persons indifferently, fomething being done in reference to fervants, and these of the poorer fort, but masters of families and those of the richer fort for the most part neglected, taking it for granted (as it were) that they have knowledge, when indeed many of them are grofly ignorant, and ought because of their ignorance to be debarred, z. That the bare repeating of the Lords Prayer, the Belief, or ten Commandements, or answering a Question or two of the Catechisme by rot-rime (as we lay) when nothing of the meaning is understood, is by many taken for knowledge sufficient. 3. There is not sufficient care to take notice of all scandals and scandalous persons, in which respect there is a twofold gross neglect: I That the scandal of omillion of Duty is nortaken notice of, as well as the feandal of commission of fin, notwithstanding that the Acts and Constitutions of the Kirk make express provision for the one aswel as for the other, as may be feen in their Acls against these who absent themfelves on the Lords day from the Publick Worship of God, and against masters of families who neglect to pray in their family, and others of that nature. 2. The many scandals of commission are also neglected, it being a cuttom in many Congregations to take notice only of Fornicators and Adulterers, and workers on the Lords day, and fuch as thefe; but do neglect Tiplers, Drunkards, Swearers, Lyars, Deceivers of their Neighbors, Fighters, Oppreflors, Extortioners, Covetous persons, and many others who walk contrary to the Gospel; whereas it is expresly provided by the Discipline of this Kirk, in the year 1587. that if the Eldership perceive any thing in the Congregation either evil in the example or scandalous in manners, and not beforming their profession, whatsoever it be that may spot the Christian Congregation, yearather whatsoever is not to edification, ought not to escape admonition or punishment, or higher degree of Kirk-Cenfure, as 2 Cor. 2. 6. Sufficient co fuch a man is this punishment which was inflicted of many. 3. That many fuch as have been judicially convicted of fcandalous faults, are pressed and received into a publick profession of R epentance, when as indeed there is no real evidences of Repentance, yet by a profession therefare put in a capacity to come to the Lords Table : By these waies it comes to pass that many ignorant and scandalous persons are admitted who ought to be excluded; which certainly is a fearful fin, as may appear in these and many other respects : s. It

s. It hinders many poor fouls from fearching after knowledge, and from departing from iniquity, and hardens them in their ignorance and lewdnefs. 2. It caufeth them to prohane the precious bloud of the Covenant, and to eat and drink damnation to themselves. 3. It makes the ignorant and scandalous promiscuously partakers of the seals of the Covenant of Grace with the truly godly. 4. It provokes the Lord to depart from his Ordinances, and for sake his Temple, because of such dishonour to his Name. 5. It brings on the judgment of God on particular persons and the whol Land. Lastly, it grieves and stumbles the godly amongst our selves, and exposes our selves and the Ordinances of Christ therein, to contempt and reproach among tothers.

The Fourth Confequent which is named to follow on the resting upon outward and base forms, is the keeping in of many continually & openly profane in the fellowship of this Kirk, by which is meant the neglect of calling out such from the fellowship of the kirk by the sentence of excomunication; for certainly these who do wilfully continue in their ignorance from year to year, flighting the means of knowledge, and refusing to be instructed, or to learn the way of the Lord: And these who do continue in an open course of prophanity, making a profession of repentance, and still persisting in their wicked way after sufficient pains taken on them, and their flighting other inferior Kirk Cenfures, ought to be casten out as dry and withered, corrupt and rotten branches, and not to be looked as Members of the Kirk of GOD. Num. 15. 30. But the foul that doth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the Land, or a franger; the same reproacheth the Lord, and that soul shall be out off from among ft his People. Pfal. 50. 16, 17. Buttothe wicked God faith, What haft thoute do to declaremy Statutes, or that thou Shouldest take my Covenant inthy mouth, seeing thou hatest infruction and cafferb my Words behinds thee? Mat. 18. 18. Verily I fay unto you, Whatforver you foall bind on Earth, fhall be bound in Heaven. And therfore it is provided in the old Acts of the Af-fembly of this Kirk, that who will stubbornly remain ignorant in the principal points of Salvation, shall be Excommunicated: And that every Mafter of Family shall be commanded, either to instruct his Children and Servants, or cause them be instructed; and if they will not, the Kirk shall proceed against them. of Grievances and common Sins of the Land, provided, That perfons often guilty of gross scandals, be Excommunicated more summarily then ordinary Process, except there be more then ordinary figns & an eminent measure of repentance, made known to the Selfions and Presbyterie. Besides these four, the Article also mentions many other fad and fearful confequents unto the prophaning of all the Ordinances of God, and rendring them bare, barren and fruitless to us. And there is no question, but that formality in profession on, and resting upon, and idolizing outward and bare forms, brings out many fad confequents belides thefe; fuch as the flighting by many, and mocking by some, the work of the Spirit, not seeking after communion and fellowship with God in Ordinances, not fludying to know, and be humbled for the iniquity of our Holy things, not feeing a need, and imploying of JESUS CHRIST for ffrength, and acceptance in all our performances; and turning the living God to a dumb Idol: and many others that are mentioned and spoken to, in that Paper published by the Commssion, concerning the contempt of the Gofpel.

The Fourth Article.

The fourth Article hath two parts; the first whereof relates to the neglect of Family-worfhip: which though it be a grievous fin, which provokes the Lord to pour out his wrath on a People, Fer. 10.25. Pour out thy fury on the Heathen that know thee not, and on the families that call not on thy Name. Yet there be many Masters of Families amongst all ranks of perfins, Noblemen, Barons, Gentlemen, Burgesses, Commons, and even some Ministers who lie under the guilt; nay, there be but few in which the plurality will not be found to neglect, or never to have practifed the Duty: Instance is given in the Article of Great men, (Nobles, Barons, Gentlemen and Burgeffes offpecial note) because very few are to be found amongst these who make conscience to call on the Lords Name in their Families, fome of them turning over the Duty wholly on a Chaplain, or some other person in the Family; and others of them having no fuch Duty in their Families performed at all, either by themselves, or by any other, they being either unable, or asnamed and unwilling to do it; whereas great and eminent persons have accounted it their duty and glory, and have followed it with much conscience and care, as may be instanced in Abraham, Gen. 18. 19. For I know bim, that be will command bischildren . and

and his boufhold after bim , and they fall beopthe wayof the Lord . to do juffice and judgement, that the Lord may bring on Abraham she which be bath pokenof. And Fofbun, 24. 15. And of it from spill mise you to ferve the LORD, theofe youthis day whom ge will forme whether the gods that your fathers forwed who were on the other fide of the floud, or the gods of the Amorites in whefe Land ye dwel : but as for me , and my boufe we will feror the LORD. And in David , 2 Sam, 6. 20. Then David verwoved to blefs his bon bold. This woful neglect of fo necessary and profitable a duty, especially in the Families of great Ones, usually arrended with the neglect of carechifing and instructing of Children and Servants, in the way of the Lord, and preffing and exercising them unto Prayer and other religious Duties, as it is a great fin before God, the height whereof is encreased by their continuing therein, after folema publick confession thereof, and engaging to the contrary, in the year 1648. and is exprelly to be feen in the folemn , publick confession of fins, and engagement to duties; fo it is the cause of much ignorance of God, Atheilm and loofness, prophanity, diforder and discontent that is in Families: and not only proves a hinderance to the spreading of piety amongst others who walks after their example, but also stops the course of the Lords bleslings on themselves and on their Families, and brings down upon them many judgments and curses from the Lord. The other part of the Article relates to the loathing and bating of godliness, and the reproaching, reviling, oppressing and persecuting the godly : A fin, as it is great in it felf, Gen. 11.9. And Sarah fam the fon of Hagar the Egytian which foe had bern unto Abraham meching. Gal. 4. 28. Now we, breibren, as Maac was, are the children of promife: But as then be who was born after the fleft, perfecuted bim who was born after the Spirit, even fo it is now. Pl. 14:6. Te have formed the counfolof, the poor; because the Lordis bierefuge. Ifa: 8. 180 Behold, 1 and the children whom the Lord bath given me ; are for fignt , and for wonders in Ifrael, from the Lord of Hofts who dwelleth in Mount Sion Ad 9.4 And be fell to the vartb, and beard a voice Corning se him ; Saul, Saul, who perfecuteft thoume ? And drawes down a recompense of tribulation from the Lord. 2 Theff. 1 6 Secing it is a righteons thing with the Lord to recompany tribulation se shem which tranble you! fo it feems to be a monfruous fin amongh a Prople , making profession of Reformation, and who are

(34) fo often covenanted to God in fo folemn a way, and yet hathie prevailed and abounded exceedingly this year bygone, in Court, in Country, in Cities, in Judicatories, in the Army, and every where throughout the Land; I man was made an offender for a word, and he that departed from iniquity, made himfelf a prey. It was quarrel enough, not to have run with others to the fame excels of rior: They who would not be disaffected and disolute, behooved to be effeemed enemies to their Country: they who studied to make conscience of holy Duties, and keep their integrity, were flandered as Sectaries, and complyers with Sectaries, and were not only exposed to the scourge of tongues, but also to the violence and oppression of malignant, graceless and prophane men: Neither were Magistrates and Ministers free of this sin, but even fundry of thele who ought to have protected, encouraged and countenanced the godly, were as pricks in their eyes, and thorns in their fides ; not only by withdrawing their countenance from them, giving way to others, to revile, oppress and perfecute them, but by imploying their own gifts and power in Judicatories, and Pulpits, and otherwaies, for keeping them down, and making them have ful and odious to others amongst whom they live. And whilest we are speaking of these things, We cannot but mension the great prejudice and enmity which many Ministers had against the exercises of godliness and duties of mutual edification, together with the great blot brought upon piety, and the great blow given to the exercise of godlinels by the Act of the Affembly at Aberdeen, not repented of by the Kirk of Scatland, nor repealed to this day : and the great neglect of the duties of mutual edification among (the Lords Miniflers and People, after there was allowance given for the fame by the following Affemblies, and the fuffering of many giftless and unprofitable Ministers not gifred of God to edific his People, to continue in the Ministey; whereby it comes to pass that many gracious People were necessitated either to want edification in the Publick Ordinances, or to fall under the centure of fuch Acis made against such as did usually withdrawe from the Ordinances and Ministry of their own Parish Churches. This fin of haring and bearing down the power of godliness, and perfecting the godly, was accompanied with another, which is mentioned also in the Atricle, to wit, The countenancing and employing the ungodly and prophane, a thing that the godly mans foul abhorred, Pfa.2 6.1,2.1.4. Fudge

1. Article.

"He fifth Article speaks of Covetouinelle and Oppression, the one as the root, the other, as the fruit and effect thereof. We need not to infift to fhew what a fin the love of the World and Coverousnesse is, the Scriptures hold it forth as Idolatry, Col. 1. 5. Mortifie therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, uncleanneffe, inordinate affection, evil concupifcence, and coverousnesse which is Idolarry, as the root of all evill. I Tim. 6. 10. For the love of money is the root of all evil, which while some men have covered after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many forrows: As that which is inconsi-Stent with the love of God. 1 Jah. 2. 19. Love not the World, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the World, the love of the Father is not in him. As that which makes the Lord wroth with men. Ifai. 57.17. For the miquity of his coverousnes was I wroth, and smote him: I bid my felf and was wroth, and be went on frowardly in the way of his beart. And to abhor them, Pfalm 10. 3. The wicked boufteth of his hearts defire, and bleffeth the coverous whom the Lord abborreth. As that which brings the curse of God on them and on their families, Hab. 1.9, 10, 11. We to him that coveteth an evil coveronfneffe to be house, that be may fet bis

(16) neft on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil: Then haft consulted (hame to thine boufe, by cutting off many people, and: haft finned against thy foul. Forthe stones shallery out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it. And though it have in it all these and many other mischiefs and evils, yer hath ie taken hold on, and doth cleave closely to many of all ranks in the Land in their carriage and actings: Do not the Body of the People spend their time in seeking after the things of a present world; and according as they prosper, or are crossed in these things, accordingly do they think themselves happy or miserable. And there be Ministers not a few, that as they entered, so do they follow the work of the Ministery for the things of a present world, and are more for caring for these things, then for the fouls committed to their charge, and more cager in pursuing an encrease and augmentation in these things, then in pursuing the things that concern the beating down of Satans Kingdom, and the promoving of the Kingdom of the Lord JESUS CHRIST. And hence allois is as from a main cause that Ministers not a few, prove unfaithfull in their duty, and unfutable in a day of temptation, rather chooling to forbear to reprove and centure the faults of these who may bring prejudice to them in things worldly, rather then to offend them, and rather chooling to become neutral and indifferent, or comply with evill courses, then to hazard the losse of their stipends, but especially the fad and wofull fruit of this wofull evill appears in Masters to their fervants, Landlords to their Tenents, Magistrass and Rulers to these over whom they bear rule, Judges to these who come before them, Advocats and Procurators to their Clients; Clerks, Commissars and Collectors to these with whom they have to do : Offieers and Souldiers in the Countrey where they bear charge, year and amongst the Commons themselves, where they have any power one over another; The Lord hath forbidden to oppreffe an hired fervant, and hath commanded at his day to give him his hire: Deut. 24. 14, 15. Thou Shalt not oppresse an bired servant that is poor and needy, whether be be of thy brethren, or of thy frangers abat are in the land within thy gates, at his day thou Thals give him his hire, neither shall the sun go down upon it: for he is poor and needy, and fetterb bis beart upon it, left be cry unto the Lord againft shee, and it be fin unto thee. Yet behold, the hire of the labourer is by many Mafters keeped back violently & fraudulently, and this cryeth nnto anto Heaven, and is entred into the cares of the Lord of hofts. 7 am. 5. 4. Behold, the hire of the labourer which have reaped down your fields, which it of you kept back by frand, cryath; and the cryet of them which have reaped, have entred into the ears of the Lord of fabbath. The oppression of Landlords to their Tenents, are so many and so exorbitant, that they cannot easily be reckoned, the Lands for the most part fet by them at a dearer rate then the Tenentscan pay the Duty, and live in any tollerable condition themselves; and therefore are they forced with their wives and children to drudge continually in the earth from morning till evening; by which it comes to paffe, that their lives is but a kind of lasting bondage and flavery, and that they have neither time nor encouragement for ferving and feeking God themselves in their Families, or for breeding their children in knowledge, vertue and piety. Secondly, Beside the Rent of the Land condescended on, they also lay on them many burdens and taxations in an arbitrary way by their Bailiffs and Courts, and otherwayes at their pleasure, such as services of all forts beyond paction and agreement, and quarterings; and beside the putting out of the Foot, and the burden thereof, sometime the burden of putting out the Horse, and the bearing of agreat part, or the whole Monethly Maintenance and Selle. Thirdly, The giving of there Laces of Lands, and removing them therefrom, and raking away what they have when they grow poor, and are not able to pay, or elfe if they thrive, by heightening and augmenting their Farms and Rent, by which means it hath in the righteous judgment of GOD, occasioned that Tenents in many places prove undutifull to their Masters, and deny to them these things which in conscience and reason they are obliged to perform. And for the Rulers, albeit we be far from joining iffue with these who from dis-affection to the Work of GOD and the Instruments thereof, did traduce and speak evill of those whom GOD set over us in their charge, and even in the impoling of the most necessary burdens, and in the most moderate and equall way, yet we cannot but acknowledge and bemoan the great reproach that hath been brought on the chief Judicatories of the Land, and on the Work of Gop, by the felfshness and particula. rity of some persons of note therein, who not only contrary to the practice of good Nebemiab, who would not eat the bread of the Governour, took large allowance for their attendance on Publick Affairs: and notwithstanding that they had sufficient chates of E . 2 their:

their own, but also abused their power and moven for exacting and imploying fummes of Money for themselves, and for their friends and followers, while in the mean time imall regard was had to the condition of thele from whom thele fummes were exacted, or to the equal fupplying of the condition of others, to whomas much and possibly more in defert and justice was due, as to these to whom those Moneyes were given. We shall not insist on the bribery that hath been amongst Judges, the cunning, cozenage, and exorbitant pilferings and taking that bath been amongst Advocats, Procurators, Commissars, Clerks and Collectors many of them have made hafte to be rich, and have by the Bench, by the Purferby the tongue and by the Pen , heaped up much treasure and made conquelt of Lands and Effaces, but with an evill confeience, because it hath been the gain of bribery and injustice and lying and deceit violence and oppression; but amongst no fort of persons hath thefe fins of covereumelle and opprellion more appeared and prevailed then amongst many of the chief Officers and Souldiers in our Armies, infomuch that many of thefe who were raifed for the Lands protection and defence, have been their meollerable burden and plague, and have by their most exorbitant, violent, eyrannically and infatiable exactions, made the lives of the Inhabitants bitter and a burden to them: What interverting of Devies; what falle Musters, what exorbitant exactions above the Law for men and horse and Arms; what Quarterings and coverous subtile oppresfing devices of many forts for getting of Money have been amongst Officers, and what plundering of Goods, destroying of Corns, taking and robbing of Moneyes, railing upon, and beating and wounding the poor people : what excellive earing and drinking, and unplacablenelle in their diet, not fatisfying themfelves with fuch fare as people could afford to them, but killing their Kine and Sheep, and what ever came in their way: and how many other things of that kind hath been amongst Souldiers, and what exorbitancies and oppressions, whereof the negligence and over-sight of some great ones and officers in our Armies, was not the leaft cause; for they not being able to shake their hands of dishonest gain themselves, did oftentimes wink at, nay fometimes obstruct the purging our, and punishing of others; Amongst other effects of Coverousnelle, instance is given in the close of the Article of the great Infolencies and oppression of many in our Armies in England and Ireland, and the fearful

(0) fearfull perjuries of the Land in the matter of Valuation and Excise, both of which were dreadfull and horrible provocations: The first of them as it was a grievous burden to our Brethren in England and Ireland, and did exceedingly thumble them at this Nation and the Work of G O D in their hands; fo we make no question but it is one of the fine that GOD is pointing at now in a special manner in the rods wherewith he now chastifethus. The other of them though little adverted to, or laid to heart, or acknowledged to this day, yet is a fewfull guilt which many in the Land ly under: How many in the matter of Valuations, that Lands might be valued at a low rate, did (wear falfely? And how many were there who were Instrumentall to cause others to swear falsely? And some Judges for their own advantage and interest, did connive thereat : And many likewife did Iwear falfely in exciseable goods. Before we close what relates to this Article, we desire that thele Scriptures may be confidered, in reference to the fins mentioned there, as the fruits of the love of the World and Coverousnesse. The Sixth Article.

The fixth Article relates to the abuling and proffituting the Publick Faith of the Kingdom, in the way of borrowing of Monies and otherwife: which no question is not one of the least provoking Publick fins in the Land. As private men ought fo far to have their faith and credit in estimation, for the love of righteousnels and truth, as not to engage the same but when they do fincerely intend, and really endeavor to perform what they promife: fo much more ought publick persons, and the judicatories of a Land have fuch regard to the Publick Faith of a Nation, as not to engage the same, but when there be some real purposes, and honest endeavors to fulfil it: Because the proflicating and breach of Publick-Faith, as it is an high provocation before God, fo it is a great deal more pernitious, reproachful, flanderous, and injurious, and of a worle example amongst men, especially when it becomes common and is uled as a flate engine, to draw in mens propriety from them, under a vail and fradow of righteonfnels, and is attended with a kind of constraint upon men, to take the Publick Faith for feeurity, as it was in this Land. job 15.4. and juffice flandeth a fan off; for truth is fallen in the firest, and equity cannot enter. Too, truth faileth, and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey. And the Lord faw it, and it defpleased himsebas there was my judgment.

The Seventh Article.

The leventh Article mentions two fins that many of this Land are guilty of, in their fielt taking of the National Covenant, and folemn League and Covenant, and renewing thereof. The first whereof is, The ignorance that was in many, or the want of the necessary knowledge of the things contained in the Covenants. The Lord requires of al thole that take an oath, That they do it in judgment, Fer. 4. 2. Andthen Chatt finear, The Lordliveth in truth, in righteeniness, and in judgment, and the Nations shall bless themfelves in him. That is, That they take it with fuch a measure of discretion, judgment and understanding, as is needful for men in their station, in order to the Duty which by their Oath they tie themselves to. But it is beyond question that many in the Land do Iwear these Covenants without the knowledge and understanding of the heads thereof, to far as was needful for them in their flation; who when they were casechiled on the particulars, do know little or nothing thereof : Which, no doubt is one could why they have so little minded and followed, and do so little mind and follow the duties contained therein. Jer. 5. 4. And I faid, Sure. ly thefe are poor, they are facility; for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God. The other is, The taking of thele Covenants without reality and fincerity, in order to the performance thereof: Which was to swear not in truth, as the Lord requiresh. Jet. 4. 1. And than (balt finear, The Lord livesh, Crc. not fally. Hol 10. 4. They have (poken words, [wearing fall]. making a Covenant: thus judgment foringeth up as bemlock in the farrows of the field. And withan heare that was not right, & therfore have they not been stedfast in the Covenant. Pfal 28. 36, 37. Nevertbeless, thay did flatter bim with their month, and did lye to him with their taugues: for their heart was not right with him , neither were they fedfast in bu Caus want. The judgments therefore mentioned to have been , in some , example; in others, fear ; and in not a few, principles of policy, for attaining their own ends. Other had principles certainly there were in fundry perfons, belide thefe, but thele are mentioned as the most common, and which had fway

with most of these who were guilty either of ignorance, or of fivpocrific in the entering into thefe Covenants. Many did rake the National Covenant, in example of others, it being counted praifeworthy and commendable after fuch a defection as was then in the Land to engage in fuch a duty, and to be reckoned amongst the repairers of the breach: Many did take the folerin League and Covenant, for fear; because the refusing to take it was attended both with Ecclefiaftical and Civil Censures, and therefore did they rather choose to hazard on the O A T H of GOD! then to run these hazards amongst Men; which doth not yet condemn the injoyning the taking of thefe Covenants upon a good and warrantable principle. It is lawfull for the Judicatories of a Kirk and State to injoyn to men cohabitation with their wivestand to children, obedience to their Parents; to subjects, obedience to their Magistrates, and suchlike under such respective relations: Yet as these persons fin against God if they give obedience only from a principle of carnal fear; neither doth the influence that thefe relations have on them make the commanding of thefe things under theferelations to be a fin , because they are in themselves duties which are commanded of God, the neglect whereof may in regard of scandall be censured by the Kirk, and in regard of the prerudice that redounds to the honour of God, and good of our neighbour, be punished by the civil Magistrate: In taking of both Covenants though there were many whom a principle of the fear and love of God did move, yet there were not a few, whom afterdiscoveries have made manifest, who were acted thereto by carnall wisedome and policie, for attaining their own base and corrupt ends, such as riches, places of preferment, and lively hood, and eafe; and hence mainly hath iffued that fin which followes in the next Article. The eighth Arricle.

The following of the Work of God, pursuing the ends of the Covenant not in a holy and spirituall way, setting the Lord alwayes before our eyes, and acknowledging him in all our paths according to the direction given us of God, which hath the promise of the Blessing, Psalm 37: 5. Commit thy way to the Lord; srust also in him, and he shall bring it to passe. Prov. 3: 5, 6. Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not to thy own understanding, in all thy wayes acknowledge him and he shall direct thy pash. But in a carnall politick way abusing Gods Interest for our own interest.

and ends, is a fearfull transgression, howsoever it isosien palliated with specious pretences, as Jehn his zeal against the house of Abab 2 Kings 10. 16. Come with me, and seemy zeal for the LORD, so they made him ride in his chariet. Yet the Lord doth not suffer to go unpunished; Hef. 1. 4. And the LORD said unto him, Gall his Name Jefreel, for yet a listle while and I will avenge the bland of Jesteel on the bons of Jehn, and will can to case the Kingdom of the hous of Ifrael. v. 5. And it shall come to passe in that day that I

t. Confequent. Two Confequents of this carnal wayare mentioned, the one is the walking in the way of our own hearts, more then in the Counfel of God: For when mens hearts are not fingle and freight in reference to the glory of God, they love not to walk according to the simplicity of the Word of God, but turns afide to their crooked ways, to chuse such carnal midses as feem most plaufible to their carnal hearts, for compassing their corrupt ends : a sign that was confessed in the publick folemn Confession of fins, in the year 1648. And yet never have thefe crooked maths been more troden in, and these counsels of flesh and blood been more hearkened to, then fince that time; which is one of the causes, why the foord dorb abide in our cities, and confume our branches and decourse Por this the Prophet threatens against Ifrael, because of their own counfels. The other, Truffing more in the arm of flesh, then in the arm of the Lord; which hath been a constant and continued fin in this Nation these years past; in doting on multitudes, skill, and abilities of men, and numbers, and ftrength of horfes; whence have iffued the corrupt mixtures in our Armies and the imploying of all ranks of perfons, how malignant and prophane foever: what wonder then though our Armies have not prospered? but have oftentimes met with a curse in stead of a blesling. Fer. 17. 5, 6. Thus faith the Lord, Curfed be the man that truffeth in man. andmaketh fleshis arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord, for be fball be like the beath in the defart, and fball not fee when good cometh, but fball inhabit the parched places in the wildernels in a fals Land, and not inhabited. From this fame fountain buth proceeded needless alienation of mind, and estrangedness of heart, on the least difference in judgment amongst Brethren, often attended with passion and spleen. Which makes our affection rather to favour our own image then the Image of Christ in others :

and our zeal against malignancie and error did divers times break forth into birterness and reproach against the persons that did turn aside, whereas it ought to have been accompanied with Christian meckness and compassion?

Remember therfor from whence thou art fallen , and repent, and do the first works, or elfe I will come to thee quickly, and remove thy Candleffick out of his place, except thou repent. This fin is ageravated by feveral circumstances mentioned in the Article, which are clear in themselves, and need not to be insisted on: therefore palling thefe, we come to speak of the special Heads and Steps that are condescended on in the Paper.

that integrity of heart, that zeal of God that seemed to be in many at their first entry to the Covenant, and a falling off into loose walking, self-interest and indifferency. About the time of the first renewing of the Covenant; there was an sensible change to the better in mens carriage and conversation; most of all these who joyned in opposing the defection; not onely reforming themselves from common and grosse sins, such as drunkennesse, uncleannesse, sweather the continuous prophaning the LORDS Day, slighting of the Ordinances, self-seeking, coverous self-seeking

(49) felves to the Duties of Religion and Righteonfrelle, fuch as for briety, Edifying Difcourfe, Chafte behaviour, hallowing of the LORDS Day, diligent feeking of the LORD in fecret and in their Families, attending on the preaching of the Word as often as opportunity is offered, liberality, love, charity one sowards another, a Publick spirit and zeal for GOD; but all these things are now decayed in many, and they are again growen as ill if not worfe then before, which as it is an evidence of great unfoundnelle of hearr, fo hath it brought many lad reproaches on the Work of GOD in our hands, and hath proven a great stumbling block to many in the neighbour Land, to make them averse therefrom, and hath given them no small advantage to speak both against us and it, though thefe, who do reject and speak ill of any part of the precious truth of God be not to be justified in so doing, yet certainly they are much to be condemned who by their untender and loofe walking minifter occasion therero : We to thefe by whom offences come.

2. Step. The fecond Step is the fitting up of many Profellors in the Land under the Gospel, and becomming formal and remisse, not entertaining tendernelle and fobernelle of minde, a fin that relates especially to the Godly in the Land, not a few of which have, much decayed in former tenderneffe, and zeal, and diligent feeking of God, and fober and exact walking, fludying to root themselves in the folid knowledge and love of the truth, and invaluing and improving the Gospel & the means of grace unto a loathing and denying of themselves, and a growing into and loving and imploying of the Lord Jesus Christ. By which, deadnesse of spirit hath seized on fome, and lazineffe of fpirit on others; whereby it hath come to pals, that they have been tempted to ftep out of the way, and some to turn afide to the left hand, to imbrace Malignant courses, and fome to the right hand to imbrace errour, whole fin is fo much the greater then the fin of others, by how much their knowledge and the LORDS loving kindness to them hath been greater then to others; and this declining of Profesiors, and falling off from their first love, if it be not deeply mourned for, and if they do not timeoully lament after the Lord, as it may prove a fnare to many more then yet it hath done, fo it is like to be amongst the chief causes that may provok the Lord to remove his Candlestick from us, Rev. 2 4. Nevertheleffe I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast tefe the first love: v. 5. Remember therefore from whence then are fallen, and repent and do the sirst works, or elfe I will come to thee quickly and remove the Candlestick out of his place, except then repent.

2. Step. The third is, the fecret falling off of fome, and open falling off of many to the oppolite party, after their entering to the Covenant; especially the defection carried on by fames Grabam, and his party, and that of the year, 1648, by the authors and abettors of the unla Viul Engagement, which particulars are fo well known, that we shall not need to flav upon them. Onely we delire that it may be remembered, that as they were early begun and long in Tipning, that of Fames Graham, having begun in the year 1639, and ripned till the year 164s, and that some of the chief Authors of the unlawfull Engagement having begun in the year, 1644, and ripned till the year 1648, and did take hold upon, and infect very many of all ranks throughour the Land, fo have they been really and unfeinedly repented of by very few to this day: which we doubt not is one of the reasons why lo many of these who had hand in these blondy and backfliding courfes have fallen by the Iword, and are gone into captivity.

4. Step. The fourth Step, is, The neglecting and condemning the purging of Judicatories, and the Army, in the year 1649, and afserward, from leandalous and dilaffeded men, and of confittuting the same of men of known integrity and affection to the Cause, and of a blameless and Christian conversation: That it was a duty fo to have constituted and purged the Indicatories and Armies, ought in reason to be questioned by none; it being a duty holden forth in the Word of God . That the Rulers of thoulands, Rulers of hundreds, Rulers of fifties, and Kulers of tens (amongst the People of God) should not only be able men, but such also as fear God, men of truth, hating covetoulnels, Exed. 18: 21. Moreover, thou Chalt provide out of all the People able men, such as fear God, men of truth, bating Coverousnes; and place such over them to be Rulers of thousands, Rulers of bundreds, Rulers of fifsies, and Rulors of tens. And les them judge the People at all feafons. Deut, 1. 15. So I took the chief of your Tribes, wife men, and known, and madeshem beads over you, Captains over thou ands, Captains over Captains oper fifires , and Captainsavertens , and Officeramone your Tribes. v. 16. a And I sharged your Judges at that time, Carme, Hear the camfes between your brethren, and judge righteenfly begring every was and his brother, and the firmer that is with bine v. 17. Ta fhall not refpett perfont in Judgment , but you Shall bear the Smal afreel as the great; you Chall nothe afreid of the face of man , for the judgment is Gods : 2 Sam. 2 3. 2. 4. The God of Ifrael faid, The Rock of Ifrael [pake to me: He that rules bover men must be just, ruling in the fear of God; and be shall be as the light in the morning , when the Sunrifeth , even a morning without clouds; as the sender graffe (pringeth aut af the earth by clear (himing after rain. 2 Chr. 19.6, 7,8. And be faid to the Indges, Take beed what ye do. for ye indee not for man; but for the Lard, who is with you in the indement; wherefore now, let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take beed and do it, for there is no iniquity with the Lord our Cod, nor re-(pett of perfons, nor taking of gifts. v. 9. And be charged them, Saying, Thus Shall ye do in the fear of the Lord, faithfully, and with a perfett bears; and Deut. 23.9. When the hoft goesh forth against then memies then keep thee from every wicked thing. Therfore were they unclean by Leptolie, by an Illue, and by the Dead. to be put out of the Camp. Nam. 5.2. Command the children , of Ifrael, that they put out of the Camp every Leper, and every one that bath an Iffne , and whofeever is defiled by the dead. Deut. 22. 10. Then fhalt not plow mith an Oxe and an Aferagether. V. 11. Thou Chale not wear a garment of divers forts, as af mollen and linmentegesber; because the Lord sheir God did walk in the midest of the Camp of his People, to deliver them, and to give up his enemies before them; therefore was the Camp to be holy, that he might fee no unclean thing in them, & turn away from them. Dent. 2 3. 14. For the Lord thy God malheth in the midft ofthy Camp . to deliver thee , and give up thing enemies before thee : therefore (ball thy Campbe boly, that be may fee no nuclean thing in thee, and turn myay from thee.

And because this Nation had exceedingly neglected the purging of Judicatories and Armies, and constituting the same of persons rightly qualified, which was the cause of many evils of sin and punishment; therefore was this neglect publically and solemnly confessed to GOD, and the contrary duty angaged upto, at the renewing of the Covenant toward the end of the year 1048. as is tobe feen in the folemn Publick Confession of fins, and engagement to duties. For rendering of the which effectual, the Commission of the Generall Assembly did present many Petitions, Remonstrances and Warnings from time to time to the Committee of Effates, and to the Parliament, who did make fundry Lawes both for the purging of the Judicatories and Armies which then were, and for keeping them pure for the time to come, as is to be feen in their Registers and Acts, Anno 1649, and 1650. And accordingly somewhat was done in that great and necessary duty by themselves and others, to whom they did commit the truft, but not withflanding of all thefe things, it did appear very foon after the Confeshing of that fin , and engaging to that duty , that many did neither mind repentance of the one, or performance of the other. Therefore as the Commission of the Generall Assembly were necessitated to renew their defires in that particular very often, and from moneth to moneth, fo were not these Lawes and Committees having power to execute the same, established without some wrestling and difficultie: not a few labouring to obstruct and recard the fame, and when it came to the execution , with what neglect and flownels, and partiality, did they proceed therein? And what impediments did they (who were not diligent) cast in the way of others who were more diligent and faithful, and zealous in following of the duty ? By which it came to paffe, that little could be gotten done in that matter, and what was done was not onely loadned with imputations and reproaches, but also was for most part made ineffectuall: The perfons appointed to be removed, being elther keeped still, or shortly thereafter being brought again to their own or fome other place, or elfe as evill being pur in their place. Nay, after the defeat at Dumbar, these duties came nor only to be neglected, but what formerly had been gotten done therein, was looked and cryed out upon , as the cause of the ruine of the Army: and therefore not only these who had been formerly purged, but all others how malignant and loofe foever, were brought to the Judicatories and Army, and what had formerly been confessed a fin, was then followed and commended as a duty. The lange vernment, upon his fubscribing such demands as were fent to him, after he had given many clear evidences of his dif-affection and enmity to the Work and people of GoD, and was continuing in the fame; and the admitting of him to the full exercise of his power, and Crowning him norwithflanding of new discoveries of his adhering to his former Principles and way, and of many warnings to the contrary. For the better understanding and more full and clear discovery of this fin, we would consider these things which are set down by the Generall Assembly of this Kirk, in their Declaration of the date Fuly 27. 1649. to wit, that as Magistrats and their power are ordained of GOD, fo are they in the exercise thereof, not to walk according to their own will, but according to the Law of equity and righteoulnesse, as being the Ministers of Gop for the fafety of his people, &c. Secondly, That there is a continual obligation and stipulation betwixt the King and the People, as both of them are tyed to Go D, fo each of them are tyed each to other, for the performance of mutuall and reciprocall duties, according to which it is statute and ordained in the 8. Act of the Parliament of King Fames the Sixt, That all Kings, Princes and Magistrats whatfomever, holding their place, which hereafter shall happen at any time to reign and bear rule over this Realm, at the time of their Coronation, the receipt of their Princely Authority, make their faithfull Promife by Oath, in the presence of the Erernall 600, That during the whole course of their lives, they shall serve the fame Eternall GOD to the utmost of their power, according as he hath required in his Holy Word, contained in the Old and New Testament, and according to the same Word shall maintain the true Religion of IESUS CHRIST, the Preaching of his most holy Word, and due and right Administration of the Sacraments now received and preachd within this Realm, and shall abolish and gainstand all faile Religion contrary to the fame, and shall rule the People of GOD committed to their charge, according to the will and command of GOD revealed in his Word, and according to the laudable Lawes and Constitutions received within this Realm , &c. Thirdly, That in the League and Covenant that had been fo folemnly and publickly Iworn and renewed by this Kingdom, the duty of defending and preferving the Kings Majeffies Perfor and Authority, is joyned with, and subordinate to the duty of preferring and defending the true Religion and Liberty of the Kingdoms. Fourthly . That an arbitrary Government and an illimited Power was the fountain of most, if not of all the corruptions both of Kirk and State: And that it was for sellraint of this and for their own just defence against yranny and unjust violence swhich ordinarily is the fruit and effect of fuch a power) that the Lords People did joyn in Covenant, and have been at the expences of fo much blood, travels and pains these years patt. Fifthly, That the King being averse from the Work of Reformation, and the Influments thereof, and compassed about with Malignant and dis-affected men whom he hearkens to as his most faithfull Counsellours, and looks upon as his most loyalland faithfull Subjects, being admitted to the exercise of his power before fatisfaction given ; would by these counsels, endeavour, an over-turning of these things which the Lord bath wrought amongst us, and labour to draw Publick Administrations concerning Religion and the Liberty of the Subject into that course and Channel, in which they did run under Prelacie, & before the Work of Reformation: Which we had the more cause to fear, because his Royall Father did often declare, That he conceived himself bound to imploy all the power that God had put in his hands to the utmost, for these ends, and that he adhered to his Fathers principles, and walked in his way, and had made a peace with the Irifh Rebels, by which is granted to them the full liberty of Popery. From these Principles the Generall Assembly did then infer, That it would be the wisedome of every one who dwells in this Land, to take heed to fuch a temptation and fnare, that they be not accessory to any such designes and endeavours of bringing or admitting the King to the exercise of his Power, without fatisfaction given concerning the fecurity of Religion, and Liberty of the Subjects, as they would not bring upon themselves, and on their Families, the guilt of all the detriment that would undoubtedly follow thereupon to Religion and the Covenant, and of all the miseries and calamities that it would bring on his Majesties Person and Throne, and on these Kingdoms. Such a thing (say they) would in all appearance be the under minding and thaking off, if not the over-throwing and deftroying the Work of Reformation , and that therefore who loever attempts the fame, do oppose themfelves to the Caufe of GOD, and will at last dash against the rock of the Lords Power, which hath broken in pieces many high and lofty ones fince the beginning of this Work in the Kingdomes. From all which it doth appear upon good grounds, that it was an high provocation, to admit the King to the exercise of his Power, or to inttult him with the Cause and People of GOD, whilst he was continuing in his former disaffection to, and entmity against the firms; with which sin the Lord hath been so displeased, that he thath in a great measure verified the same things on the Land which are holden forth by the Generall Assembly, and which would be the confequents thereof.

We know that it will be objected by many, That the King did defilt from, and abandon that course of enmity against the Work and People of God, before the close of the Treaty, and that he did give farisfaction concerning the fecurity of Religion, and Liberty of the Subjects, by condescending to, and subscribing these demands, which were lent to him from the Parliament of this Kingdom, and the Commission of the Generall Assembly. To which we reply, Pirft, that there demands were deficient, at least not so plain and poflive, and exprelle in the main and necellary thing, to wit, a reall abandoning of former malignant courses and principles, and a real and cordiali cleaving to the Work and people of God, without which there could not be a reall fecurity; it was not a shadow of fecurity for Religion and Liberty, or a paper and verball fecurity onely, but a reall security which we were bound before the Lord to have evdeavouted and obtained before the close of a Treaty with the King, for intrulting him with the Government, and to authorize Commissioners to settle with him upon such paper-securities, and accordingly to intrust him, was but to mock God, and to deceive the World, and to betray and deffroy our felves, by giving up all the precious Interests of Religion and Liberty into the hands of one who was in a course of enmity to these. Secondly, it is certain, (if men will not deny clear and evident truths) that the King had not only (before the authorizing of these Commissioners to close a Treaty with him upon his condescending to these Demands) given evidence of his enmity to the Work and people of God, but alfo was continuing in the fame, during the time of the Treaty, and that he had not abandoned these Principles and courses at the close of the Treaty; And when he did fwear and subscribe

the Nationall Covenant, and the Solemn League and Covenant; Nay, the whole tenour of his carriage, did then, and afterward convincingly enough (to intelligent men) demonstrate him to be the fame he was before. We shall not need bring many instances, therefore palling over these things which he did, before this Kingdome began to treat with him, fuch as the Declaration emitted by him when he was Prince, against the Cause and People of God, and his Printed Declaration at Ferfey, as King, against all who had been in opposition to his Father in these troubles; We shall mention only a few particulars that fell out thereafter, to wit, thele:first, he did not only countenance and entertain the most Capital and known Enemies of this Kingdom, fuch as fames Grahame, and others, who had fhed much of the bloud thereof, but also did give Commission to the said fames Grahame to make war upon, and invade the Inhabitants thereof, as Traitors and Rebels. Secondly, in the whole progrelle of the Treaty, as he did communicate and take counfell with known dif-affected and malignant men in all things. relating to the same, and not moving a step, but according to their advice, to did he prograftingt and delay to grant what was defired, untill all other means of help had failed, and his own estate and condition was now become desperat, and what he did grant, was not all at once, and cheerfully, as if it had been a duty, but by little and little, and by a kind of coaction and merchandife, as if it had been a bargain of buying and felling. Thirdly, after the Treaty was brought to some close, he did before his coming to Sea, receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper from one of the Prelatical Chaplains, and according to the Service-Book not with standing the Commissioners of the Kirk did represent the evill thereof to him, and did earnestly deal with him to the contrary. Fourthly, he brought to Sea, and into Scotland with him almost the whole Train of Malignant and dif-affected men, who had followed him in his former evill courses, and fled from the Justice of both Kingdoms, and these he did more familiarly & intirely converse with, then with others. Fifthly, he was near the coast of Scotland before he would condefcend to the subscribing of these Demand which were sent from the Parliament, upon the report of the close of the Treaty, as it was first closed in Holland, and the Commissioners were to far out of hopes of obtaining their delire, that even when they were come mear the thore, they were preparing Papers of exoneration; and when in an inftant on the luggeftion of lome Malignants, he did condescend to subscribe the Demands, and take the Covenant; it was with a referve of a Declaration to be printed therewith, which he did not pals from untill the Commillioners of the Church did refuse to admit thereof. Sixthly, Within a few dayes of his coming to Scotland, when removing Malignants from his Family and Court was earnestly pressed by the Commissioners both of Kirk and State, at Falkland, he shewed himself very averse from the fame, and did not only at that place, but at all places and times afterwards countenance and entertain men of that flamp, who were in his Family and Court, and came to the fame. Seventhly, He did for a long time refuse to subscribe the Declaration which was tendered to him, for the acknowledging of his own, and his Parents guiltinels for the time past, and according to his duty for the time to come; and after that he had, with a great deal of reluctancy fubscribed the fame, he did oftentimes express, That he did not think his Father guilty of bloud, and that not withfranding he had fo declared, he had his own meaning thereof. Eighthly, As he did first by Letters authorize fundry of the Malignant party to rife in Arms without the knowledge of the Committee of Estates, and contrary to the standing Laws of this Kingdom; so did behimfelf within a fhort time thereafter, defert the Publick Councels of the Kingdom, and joyn with the Malignants. Ninthly, During the whole time of the Treaty, and after the close thereof, he had correspondence with all the Malignants of the three Nations, to fundry of which he gave Committions. These Instances do clearly knough prove what was faid concerning the Kings continuing in a course of enmity to the Work and People of God, which made it a fin in us, whileft he was in that condition , to entrust him with the Interefts of both: neither was our carriage here more faulty in the matter, then it was rash and precipitant in regard of the manner. The news of the late Kings death, brought to Edinburgh on the Lords day at night, the Parliament did the next day before twelve of the clock, proclaim this King with all publick folemnitie, without fetting any time apart to feek the Lord for Counfel and dire. ction therein; which, as both Reason and Religion might have taught us, to have used more deliberation amongst our selves; and more

more supplication to God, before he (whose Father and himself had been engaged fo much in opposition to the Work and People of God) had been proclaimed King, and within a fhort time thereafter folemn Address was made to him for offering him the Crown and Kingdom upon some verbal and paper security, without any previous Address for informing his conscience, or taking notice whether he did adhere to his former principles and way; and when the Lord was pleafed to render thefe Applications ineffectual, and to bring back the Commissioners to this Kingdom and Kirk, without any fatisfaction to their defires; we did again no less precipitantly then before, rush on a second Address, which was at one and the fame day concluded and proposed in Parliament, not only without any previous Confulration or Debate had there anent amongst these who had been tender and faithful to the Work of God from the begining, but without their knowledge, and contrary to their expectation; and afterwards, in regard of the close and dispatch of Commissioners, which was so passionatly and violently driven on, that many were impatient, even of the most necessary delaies, and of the most reasonable contradiction in any thing that related thereto; and it is not to be past without observation, that whileft we were treading thefeflippery and finful fleps, the Lord' fuffered not us to want warning. We shall not inlist on the lad apprehensions that were in the hearts of many of the godly in the Land in reference thereto: So albeit they durft not altogether demy duty to be in making Application to the King, yet did the fence of the Lords controversie with him and his house, together with his walking in his former way, lie heavy on their fpirits and made them rather fear a curfe, then expect a bleffing thereupon. Nor. shall we speak of the passionat inclination, defires and endeavors of the Malignant party, and of their rejoycing herein, and of their heightning of their hopes thereby, But we defire it may be remembred , That whileft the fecond Address was in preparing, not only did the Lord give us warning of prefumptions, furlt of the King his authorizing of James Graham to invade this Kingdom, and of hisencouraging him by Letters to go on in that Invalion, even whilf he was in terms of a Treaty with Us; but alloby fames Grabam his adual invasion a little thereafter by the Kings Commission, and by bringing to our hands the authentick Commission it felf, and fundry

(59) fundry Letters under the Kings own hand, testifying his adherence to his former principles, & his affection to that great Enemy of this Cause and Kingdom. And what were all these instances which we have formerly looken of in the Kings carriage, but warnings from the Lord to have taught us wildom in this thing? We know that fome may think it unfutable for us to meddle in these things which feems to have been otherwise determined by the General Assembly of this Kirk 1650. and that others may wonder that that Affembly should have to determined. We shall not now stand to debate how far that Affembly did approve of these things which concern the Treaty with the King, anent the fecurity of Religion : but the Lord having declared fo much from Heaven against the whole Land, it concerns us and all others impartially to fearch into, and to discover the causes thereof, so far as he is pleased to convince and give light therein; and we do in charity, and not without ground, prefume, That of all the paffages of procedor of the Kings carriage in the Treaty, and from the beginning in order to this Kfriedom and the enemies thereof, had been impartially and free-If discovered and made known to the Assembly as they have been fince; they had not gone the length which they went.

6. Srep. For underfranding of the fixth Srep, which relateth unto the rejecting the discovery of guiltiness and causes of the LORDS contending withus; It will be needfull to fpeak forhewhat for clearing of the marrer of fact in the inftances which are given in the Article: The first instance is in the causes of humiliation, condescended on by the Commission of the Generall Assembly at Leith, and offered to the Committe of Estates, by whom they were rejected; the flory whereof as to the matter of fact was thus: The next day after the English forces came in view of our Army, which was then intrenched betwirt Leith and Edinburgh: Some generall persons in our Army (whether from any defire to approve themselves to the King, who the night before was come to Leith from Sterlin, or from any other principle, we know not) did draw forth a great many of the Horse to skirmith with the Enhlith, by whom they were with some loffe, and much shame beaten back again to the trenches, which bred fuch a disheartning and astonishment in the whole body of the Army, that had the English then stormed the Trenches, they had be-like gained them, and routed our Army. Upon this occasion, the Commission of the Generall Assembly gave themselves to fearch after the causes of this stroake and spirit of confusion and aftonishment from the LORD, and after some pains taken therein , found that there had been a malignant defign for bringing in again the malignant party of a long time, hatching and carrying on by fundry in the Judicatories and in the Army, and that it was far promoted and advanced: And for the more conviction hereinsthey did condescend on severall Instances and Particulars of moment and confequence : This they offered to the Committee of Estates as grounds of humiliation to be keeped by them and the Army; but the Committee, as they did refuse to take with any fuch guiltinels, fo did they refuse to joyn in any humiliation to be keeped. for the fame. Upon the which the Commission did leave it before them with a Declaration, That they had exonered themselves, and with a defire to the Committee of Estates to do therein, as they would be answerable to GOD, who was contending for these things. The second is the causes of humiliation, condescended on at Sterlin immediatly after the defeat at Dumber: thele caules which were first condescended on by the Presbytery with the Army, and afterwards approven by the Commillion of the Generall Assembly did specific somewhat of the crooked courses which had been taken in carrying on the Treaty with the King. and of the obstructing the purging of the Army, and of the Judicatories, and of the Kings Family, and of the not differencing of Instruments imployed in Publick trust, and severall other things relating to the carriage of these in Publick trust in Judicatories and Armies, which though reall truths in themselves, and just matter of humiliation before GOD, yet were rejected and not fo much as read or intimated by many Ministers in their Congregations, and were refuled to be taken with, or acknowledged by fundry Statefmen and Officers of the Army, and others, who were guilty of them, The third Instance is the Remonstrance of the Gentlemen . Ministers and Forces in the West, which thoughit was a festimony given in reference to fin and Duty by a company of men who had been straight from the beginning in the Work of GOD, in the fimplicity of their hearts, and did contain in it many fad truthes. yet was not onely rejected, but condemned by the plurality of the Com-

England, and on the cales well inginistance of a relialution Committee of Estates y and Commission of the General Assembly, notwirftanding that many of the Members of both thefe Judicatories did differt from , and proteft against thele voices, and as if it had not been enough a was again refumed by the Parliament and a most harth centure purupon it, and all fuch as did not difclame it before such a day, appointed to be proceeded against with Censures of an high nature; other testimonies of Presbyteries and Synods befide thefe are also mentioned, for diverse such there was, as the Letters from the Presbyteries of Sterlin, Aberdeen. Glafgen , Pafley, and severall other Presbyteries and Synods, which were writen to the Commission as testimonies of their diffatisfaction with the Publick Resolutions concerning the Leavy, and were rejeded, and fundry of the authors thereof fharply rebuked : nay , fome of them discharged to speak their Consciences, and confined in places far distant from their charge for doing thereof. In the close of this Agricle there is mention of the neglecting of means tending to peace, and the preventing the effusion of more bloud, from pride and biternesse of spirit, against these who had invaded us. We know that before this Kingdom was invaded by these who hath now brought it low, there was a Letter writen by the Parliament to the prefent power in England, and duplicates thereof to the Generall, Liutenant Generall, and Generall Major of their Army, upon the 22, of Jame 1650. wherein they did fhew that as in their Letter of the 6. of March 1649. they did acknowledge their obligation, and declare their refolution, to observe the rule of Remonstrating; first the breaches of Peace for craving just reparation, of using all fair means of giving a preceding warning of three moneths, before any Engagement of thefe Kingdoms in war, fo they do again renew the fame, and accordingly renewed the Acts of Posture and Leavy for putting this Kingd m in readinesse in case of invation, which were made the former year when they wrote the forefaid Letter of the 6. of March , all which they do profelle folemnly to be done by them in the fincerity of their hearts; not one of any policy to catch advantages, nor for any other end or defign what loever, but meerly for their own defence, which they do account al undantly fufficient to remove all grounds of jealousies. and milreports of their intentions, and to take away all prevence of necessity of the marching of forces for defence of the borders of H 3

England; and on the other pare being informed of a refolution in England to fend an Army to Invade this Kingdom, they defired to know whether these who have the present power in England do acknowledge themselves oblieged, or by their answer will obliege themselves and declare their Resolutios to observe the foresaid way and order upon their part tous, and plainly and clearly to declare, whether their Forces do march for offence or defence, whether with intention for keeping onely within the borders of England or comming within ours, which way of procedour for tlearing each others, and dealing plainly, is not onely agreable to particular Treaties, and to the many Tyes, Bonds and Declarations past betwixt these Kingdomes, but also to the Law of God, and practise of his People in his Word, and to the common law and practice, even of heathen Nations, much more of Christian Covenanted Kingdoms, and may prevent many evils & dangerous confequences, which may fall our even beyond and contrary to the intentions of the Nations, by their Armies lying near others upon their borders, although meetly upon intended defence: This did indeed favour of a spirit of peace; but fince the comming of thefe men into the Land there hath been fuch pride and bitternelle of fpirit, that not onely were all eslayes of peace neglected, but every motion rending thereto, whether made by any amongst our selves, or hinted at by any amongst them, were slighted and some time entertained with disdain, reproach and contempt; and albeit the invalion was unjust, yet certainly it was our duty to have followed and endeavoured peace to far as was possible, Rom. 12. 18. If it be possible, as month as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. Heb. 12. 14. Follow peace with all men, and bolineffe, without which no man [ball fee God. Pfalm 120. 7. I am for peace, but when I fpeak they are for war.

7. Step. The feventh is, the Publick Resolutions of Kirk and State, for bringing in the Malignant Party first to the Army, and then to the Judicatories, and the actual intrusting of them with the power of the Kingdom both Military and Civill; We conceive that these Publick Resolutions in the complex of them do (besides other sins which may be mentioned) include these: First, a conjunction with the Enemies of God and his Cause, which is condemned by many clear Scriptures, a Chron. 19. 1, 2. And Jebosaphae faid, the Rich of Ifonel Saile Keby The three point Chaptest the King of Judah returned to his bonfe in peace to Ferrefalem , and febu the fon of Hanamithe feer , went sus to meer him . and faid to King Jebofbaphat , Shouldft them belpebe ungodly , and lave them that hate the LORD? therefore is wrath on thee from before the Lord. Ifa. 30. 1, 2, 3. Wo to the rebellious children , faith the LORD, that take councel but not of me; and that cover with a covering , but not of my fpirit , that they made adde fin to fin : That walk to go down to Egypt (and have not afked at my mouth) to Grengthen themselves in the ftrength of Pharash, and to truft in the Ibadow of Egypt; Therefore Shall the Brength of Pharaot be your fbame , and the truft in the fbadow of Egypt your confusion : 162. 31. 1, 2, 3. We to them that go down to Egypt for help, and flay on borfes; and truft in chariots, because they are many, and in borfmen, because they are very frome, but they look was torbe boly one of Ifrael, neither feek the LORD; Tet be alfois wife, and will bring evill, and will not call back his words: But will arise against the bouse of the could doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity: Now the Egyptians are men and not GOD, and their borfes flesh and not spirit; when the LORD shall fresch out bis hand, bosh be that belpeth (ball fall, and bethat is bolpen Shall fall down, and they all fall fall together. Jer. 2. 18. And now what haft thou to do in the way of Egyps, to drink the waters of Siber ! or what haft thou to do in the way of Affria, to drink the waters of the river? Jet. 13. 21. What will thou fay when he shall punish thee? (for then haft taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee) fall not forrows take thee as a. woman in travail? 2. The laying of a foundation of ortheeftablishing of a rule for imploying and intrusting men with the interest of the Cause of GOD and of the Kingdom, who ought not to be " imployed nor inftrufted, if respect be had to the qualifications requisred in the Word, viz. That they be men fearing GOD, hating covetousnelle and dealing truly, who are appointed to be rulers over thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens, Exed. 18. 21. Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people, able men, such as fear GOD, men of truth, bating coverenfueffe; and place such over them; to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of bundreds, rulers of fifties and rulers of tens; and that they be just, ruling in the fear of God who rules over men. 2 Sam. 23.3. The GOD of Ifrael faid.

faid, the Rock of Ifrael fpake to me, He that ruleth over men muft be juft, ruling in the fear of God. 3. That there was therein a breach and violation of the fourth Article of the Covenant, which obligeth that we be so far from giving trust to Malignants, that they should endeavor to bring them to condign punishment. 4. That there was therein a manifest receding from the solemn publick confession of fins , and engagement to duties, and from the constant tenor of our Declarations, Warnings, and Remonstrances and cause fes of humiliation thefe years palt. Ier. 2. 35, 36, 37. Tet thou Sajest , Because I aminnocent , surely bis anger foal turn from me; Behold I will plead with thee, because thou sayest I have not finned. Wby gaddest thou about so much to change thy way: thou also shalt be asbamed of Egypt, as then wast ashamed of Affyria; yed, thou Shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head t for the Lord bath rejected thy confidences, and thou fhalt not profper in them. 5. That there was a great deal of diffidence, and diffruft in the Arm of the LORD, and a feeking of help from, and a refting on the arm offefh; Fer. 17. 5, 6. Thus faith the Lord, Curfed be the man that truffeth in man , and maketh flesh his arm , and whose beart departeth from the LORD: for he fball be like the heath in the defert, and fhall not fee when good commeth, but fhall inhabite the parched places in the wilderneffe, in a falt land and not inhabited. 6. That there was therein a great deal of prevarication and deceitful dealing by many, Fer. 5.2.3. And though they fay The Lord liveth, furely they fwear fulfely. O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou haft frickenthem, but they have not grieved, then haft confumed them, but they have refused to receive correction, shey have made their faces barder then a rock, they have refused to return : Because albeit the arguments that were used, were taken from necessity and other things of that kind, yet the great wheel that moved in that bufineffe, was a defign to bring in that party into places of power and truft into the Army, who had been formerly put out for their malignant and disaffected carriage, and thereafter, albeit in the beginning of this businesse fo great hafte was pretended, that they could not wait for avery few dayes, till the Commission might conveen, but made use of a unfrequent and occasionall meeting, when not onely many of the Members were absent , but also not advertised; yet when that which was aimed at concerning the Modelling of the Army was obtained they did move but very flowly, and Acted nothing at all for many months thereafter; nay, not till long after the Army was compleatly Leavied, and until they had gotten the Act of Classis also refeinded, and that Party brought to the Parliament aswell as to the Army, and untill the Generall Assembly did sit down, that they might have their approbation of these proceeding so far as was fit for them to meddle with. 7. There was in it a reall stumbling and offence to the most part of the godly in the Land, whose hearts were much grieved, and their hands exceedingly weakened thereby , together with the making glad and ftrengthening the ungodly, and dilaffected and prophane in the Land, Fer. 23. 14. I have feen also in the Prophets of Fernsalem an borrible thing, they commit adultery and walk in lies; they strengthen also the bands of evill doers, that none dothreturn from his wickednesse; they are all to me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gommorrab. Ezek. 13.22. Because with lies ye have made the bearts of the righteons fad, whom have not made fad and strengthened the bands of the wicked, that he (bould not return from his wicked works by promifing him life. Lastly, the state of our Cause was thereby upon the matter turned upsidedown by intrusting the Work and people of God to the enemies thereof, it being known and made manifest that these men did retain the same principles, and did drive on the same designs which could not but prove destructive to Religion & the People of God.

8. Step. The next Step, is, The joyning of many of the People (who are engaged with God by Covenant to the contrary, no leffe then the Rulers) with the Forces of the Kingdom; after that by the Resolutions there was a prevailing party of malignants brought to the Army, who had the strength of Counsels and Actings therein, and were carrying on a malignant interest; what ever question there may be of the associating of subjects in war with the wicked enemies of God, on the command of the Magistrate in a lawful cause, which seems to us to be condemned in the People of God, 1sa. 8. 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18. For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me, that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, Say ye not a Confederacy could these to whom this People shall say, a Confederacy; meither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid. Sandissie the Lord of Hosts Himself, and les

And be fall be form fantinary; but for a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Ifrael, for a gin, and for a snare to the inhabitants of Ferusalem, and many among them (bal flumble and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken. Bebold, I and the children whom the Lord bath go ven me, are for figns, and for wondersin Ifrael, from the Lord of bifts which dwellerb in Monnt Sion. Alwel as in the Magistrates; the ground of the prohibition, to wit, learning of their works, and the enfnaring of the People, having a more immediate connexion with the Peoples joyning, then with the Magistrates commanding them to joyn; yet as the thing is laid down in the Paper we think there will be no question about it, because it includes these Particulars. 1. The joyning of a People who with the confent and approbation, nay by the commandement and authority of their Magistrates had covenanced with the LORD, not to joyn with his Enemies. 2. That it was when the rule of conftituting the Army was corrupt, to wit, the Publick Resolutions, which made the case desperat and left no place or remedy for purging of the Army. 3. That it was when a party of Malignants who had the fway of Counfels and Actings were brought to the Army, which being added to the former, not only made the purging of the Army in an ordinary way impossible, but also carried the thream and current of all their Resolutions and Actings into a malignant Channell; that they were the prevailing Party, is more manifest, then that time needs to be spent in verifying thereof. 4. That they were carrying on a Malignant Interest, to wit, the establishing the King in the exercise of his Power in Scotland, and the re-investing him with the Government in England, when he had not yet abandoned his former enmity to the Work and people of God; and the fecuring of Power in their own hands under him: And though none of thefe four had concurred (all which we believe will be acknowledged by un-byalled men) yet there was a fin in the Peoples joyning, because few or none of these who did joyn, did give any testimony against the Magistrats employing of the Malighant Party, but went willingly after the commandment, Hofen 5. 11. Ephraim is appreffed pressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly obeyed and west after the commandment. It is acknowledged to have been the Peoples duty, even by these who justifie their joyning with them upon the command of the Magistrate, to have bemoaned it before the Lord, and in their stations to have testified against it before men.

9. Step. The ninth Step is, the prelimiting and corrupting of the Generall All mbly, in regard of the free and right conflitution thereof. Generall Allemblies rightly constitute in their liberties and freedom, as they are one of the most precious Ordinances of IESUS CHRIST, so have they been most wholsome and profitable means in this Kirk, for the purging and preferving all the Ordinances of CHRIST in the Land; and therefore as it hath been the care of all the faithfull servants of God in the Land, to vindicat and preserve their right constitution and due liberty and freedom; so in the promoting of any course of defection hath Satan alwayes studied to intrench thereupon, and to corrupt the same. That the Generall Assembly was prelimited this year, is evident by the Letter written by the Commission of the Generall Assembly to the Presbyteries, with an Act fent therewith, appointing, that all thefe who remain unsatisfied in the Publick Resolutions, after Conference, and did continue to oppose the same, should be cited to the Generall Assembly; Which Letter and Act had such influence on many Presbyteries, that though there were in them many able and faithfull men who were unfarished with the Publick Resolutions, yet very few of these were chosen to be Commissioners; and where any fuch persons were elected, there was for the most part either Protestations against it, or else another election of other persons; by which it came to pals, that almost all these were incapacitated to fit in the Assembly, and the Meeting was almost wholly made uponly of these who had been instrumentall in carrying on the former defection, or were confenting thereto, and were approving thereof. A more groffe prelimitation then this could not readily be that men intrusted by the Generall Assembly with the Publick Affairs, and to preferve the liberty thereof, should first (contrary to their truft) open a door for bringing in the Malignant Party, and then shut the door against the sitting of all these in the Assembly , where their proceedings were to be tryed, who did not before their com-

ming there, approve of their opening the door to the Malignants; which was not onely to make defection themselves, but to involve others therein, and to take away the remedy thereof. Befide this groffe prelimitation, there was also diverse other particulars of importance that fell out in the Meeting it felf, in the constituent Members in the liberty & freedom of voicing, which were fet down at length in the Protestation made at St. Andrews against that Meeting, and the Reasons afterwards penned for strengthening thereof, and therefore we shall not need in this place to repeat these things, but recommends the reading of them to fuch as defire more fully to be informed in these particulars. It were tedious to fall on the Acts of that Assembly, and Warnings issued by them. These things we now leave, as a fubject requiring a more large and diffinct confideration; defiring onely this one thing to be pondered and considered. That besides their ratifying and approving the Proceedings of the former Commission (which were in many things the great grief of all the godly in the Land ) in such ample manner, as even (in way of expression) is not free of some flattery and vanity; and befides the centuring of fome honest men for no other thingbut only protesting against them; and besides, the emitting of Warnings reflecting exceedingly on former pious and warrantable proceedings, they have laid a foundation for cenfuring all Ministers and Profellors, and for keeping such out of the Ministery, who do not approve of all these proceedings, which have this last year so much yexed and grieved the godly; and so much rejoyced and made glad the Malignant Party and wicked of the Land: And if thefe things shall be accordingly executed and take effect, what perfecution shall there be of many godly Ministers, Elders, Expediants and Profellors; and what a Ministery, and what a Church shall we have in a few years?

10. Article.

The last Head of the Lords controversie that is mentioned, is deep security and obstinacie, im enitencie and incorrigiblnesse under all these, and under all the dreadfull stroaks of God, and to-kens of his indignation against us, because of the same, so that whilst he continues to smite, we are so far from humbling our selves, that

PREFACE.

Libough we are not ignorant, that mockers of all forts may take occasion by this Acknowledgment of the Sins of Minifers, to fremethen themfelves in their prejudices at our perfons and Callings, and turn this unto our reproach, and that fome may mifconfirme our meaning therein, as if we did thereby intend to render the Ministery of this Church bafe and contemptible, which is far from our thoughts, We knowing and being perfinaded in our felves, that there are many able , godly and faithful Ministers in the Land; get being convinced that we are called to bumble our felves, and to jufifie the Lord in all the contempt that be bath poured upon us : That they who (ball know our fins, may not stumble at our judements : Wa have thought it our duty to publish this following Discovery and Acknowledgment of the corruptions and fins of Ministers . That it may appear how deep our hand is mobe Trans groffion , and that the ACL nifters of Scotland have no small accession to the drawing on of these judgments that are upon the Land.

Only in this following Acknowledgment we defire it may be confidered. That there are here enumerated fome fins, subgreaf there be but some few Ministern quilty, and where where the first pullty, and now a few, which are the fins of these whom the Lord bath keeped from the more grosse corruptions herein mentioned; And that it is not to be wondered at, if the Ministery of Scotland be yet in a great measure unpurged, Considering that there was so wide a door opened for the entering of corrupt persons into the Ministery, for the space of above thirty years under the tyrants of Private, and that also there bath been so many diversions from, as a supplier of endeavours to have a purged Ministery in this Land
